

SENATE RATIFIES NAVAL TREATY

HOT FIGHT NEAR FOR PREMIER

Future of Lloyd George at Stake in Parliament
Monday
HAS RESIGNATION
READY TO PRESENT
Will Quit Post Unless Given Vote of Confidence on Genoa

By ED. L. KEEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
LONDON, March 29 — Premier Lloyd George has his resignation ready for next Monday.

Unless the house gives him a majority of 300 or more when he asks a vote of confidence on the government's Genoa policy, his friends say he will unquestionably quit.

A small majority of which Lloyd George is almost certain, will not satisfy the premier.

Threats of crisis in two other big issues with which Lloyd George is faced may influence the house against him.

1.—Labor may line up against Lloyd George to prevent him leaving the country while the industrial crisis caused by the shipbuilding and engineer strikes is on.

2.—The Irish situation is considered full of menace and the outcome of the proposed conference between North and South leaders uncertain.
Failure here would antagonize a considerable number of coalition liberals.

The Genoa economic conference, Lloyd George's own idea, may prove the Frankenstein instrument to bring about his downfall. The resolution concerning Genoa on which the vote will be taken includes the terms laid down at Cannes; that is, that Russia recognize her debts and give guarantees before she can be recognized.
But Lloyd George's staunchest supporters in the coalition, including Winston Churchill, have split with the premier over "shaking hands with Russia."

Sixty unionist "die hards" under Sir George Younger will vote against the premier and with them will be a number of coalition unionists who will not agree to meeting the Bolsheviki under any conditions.

Coalition whips are making every effort to have the majority in the house around 400.

SUDDEN ILLNESS IS FATAL TO ARCHITECT

LOS ANGELES, March 29.—Octavius Morgan, noted commercial architect died suddenly today of heart failure.

Among the local structures designed by Morgan are the I. W. Hellman building, the Farmers and Merchants National bank, the Story building,
the Stock Exchange and the Van Nuys building.

Morgan was born in Kent, England
in 1850.

ELECTRICITY EXPERT WILL TALK TO LIONS

O. S. Smith of Los Angeles will be the speaker at the luncheon of the Lions club at St. Ann's Inn tomorrow. He is said to be an expert on electricity on which subject he will speak. Carl Gaffney, manager of the Granger Electric company, will be chairman. Raymond R. Miles will entertain with vocal solos.

Debs Plans to Take Over Socialist Leadership in Cleveland Convention

By FRED G. JOHNSTON
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
CINCINNATI, Ind., March 29.—Eugene V. Debs prepared for a "comeback" today.
Debs, recently pardoned from Atlanta prison, where he was sentenced for violation of wartime laws, said he was ready to assume the active leadership of the Socialist party.

The veteran leader and five times candidate for the presidency, will go to Cleveland to attend the national convention of Socialists, starting April 29, he said.

"Only my health, which has not been so good of late—can prevent me from active work with the party," Debs continued.
"I am going into the work again,

2,500,000 Unemployed In England as Ship Builders Strike

LONDON, March 29 —
Thousands of shipbuilding workers quit today, according to a statement from the ministry of labor. Three hundred thousand in all are expected to walkout following wage cuts.

This strike is separate from the lockout of 500,000 workers in the engineering trades, which was proclaimed today
by the engineering employers federation.

In all, disputes in the engineering and allied trades will have added 1,200,000 men to England's army of unemployed, bringing its total to nearly 2,500,000.

SOLONS SLASH ARMY DESPITE HARDING PLEA

Bill Providing For 115,000 Enlisted Men and 11,000 Officers Given O. K. in House.

WASHINGTON, March 29 —
Reduction of the army to 115,000 enlisted men and 11,000 officers was approved by the house today, when it passed the $375,000-army appropriation bill.

At present the army enlisted strength is about 150,000. The reduction was voted in the face of President Harding's strong objections to such a drastic cut.

SLABAUGH FOLK IN CAR ESCAPE FALLING TREE

With a huge pepper tree crashing down upon the automobile in which they were sitting, Dr. F. W. Sla-baugh, county purchasing agent, and his wife, well known singer, and two daughters escaped with their lives uninjured. The top and windshield of the car were smashed. The accident occurred yesterday evening about 6 o'clock in the alley on the south side of the county garage, corner Church and Sycamore.

Boys from a nearby church were engaged in cutting down a pepper tree on the proposed site of the new county jail, where they planned to erect a tent. Ropes were rigged to pull the tree to the south. Dr. Sla-baugh drove into the alley next to the garage, north of the tree. When the tree began to topple, the pull on the ropes failed to draw the tree southward. Limbs of the tree brushed the garage and came down upon Dr. Slabaugh's machine, before he had opportunity to back his car
more than several feet in an effort to evade them. This slight move, however, probably saved the lives of those in the car as a heavy limb crashed to the ground just ahead of the car. Smaller branches struck the car, a four-inch limb coming through the top and striking Dr. Sla-baugh on the head.

The car was entirely screened from view by the fallen tree and the occupants were securely imprisoned.
Rescuers armed with axes worked for twenty minutes before they were released.

ARTICLES OF UNION OIL ASSN. ON FILE

SACRAMENTO, March 29.—Articles of incorporation of the Union Oil association, the newly-formed holding company for stock in the Union Oil company of California, have been filed with the secretary of state at Sacramento. The company is capitalized for $30,000,000.
Los Angeles will be its headquarters.

BANQUET FOR ELEPHANT COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 29.—May- or Thomas will preside at a banquet in honor of the 16th birthday anni- versary of "Tilik," an elephant.

I shall enter it with all my energy and that is what my physician said I must not do.

Debs will advocate prison reforms to correct the wrongs he said he observed while serving in Atlanta if he is able to attend the Cleveland convention.

Debs' prescription for curing habitual criminals is psychological methods—not punishment, he said.

"Kindness begets kindness—brutality begets brutality," he said.

Debs said he was commended
by President Harding following pardon from Atlanta for having the courage of his convictions.
Harding did not request that he give up his active work in behalf of Socialism, Debs said.

MINERS, OWNERS FAIL TO AGREE IN EFFORT TO HALT STRIKE

(United Press Leased Wire)
CHICAGO, March 29.—Meeting of Illinois mine operators and union representatives here today failed in its efforts to avert the strike of coal miners set for April 1.

After a session of nearly an hour,
the conference adjourned "subject to call." It was stated that the meeting was merely a formal session, held to comply with the present contract requirements that no progress toward making a separate peace in Illinois in the coal war was made.

Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois union, in addressing the meeting, upheld the stand taken by the United Mine workers of America in favor of a strike.

"The strike would not have been necessary if the operators of Ohio and Pennsylvania had kept their contract and met with the miners to draw up a new wage agreement," Farrington told the meeting.

Farrington made it plain that Illinois miners would "ride along" with the national organization on the strike unless an "emergency arises."
"Just what do you mean by an emergency?" one operator asked the union chief.

Farrington refused to amplify his statement. It was understood that in case of further difficulties with the national organization on the organization of a strike, Farrington would be in a position to resume negotiations with the Illinois operators for a separate peace.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The nation faces the nation-wide coal tieup due to go into effect at midnight Friday with a coal reserve equal to the record breaking supplies on hand at the signing of the armistice, official government figures today showed.

The figures explain why the federal government is not viewing the threatened walkout with alarm and plans no action during the first weeks of the tieup except to prevent violence.

The huge reserve now held by consumers is sufficient to supply the nation for approximately fifty-two days if the present rate of consump-

The soft coal supply held by consumers on March 1 was estimated at 52,500,000 tons.

In addition 5,160,000 tons were on the upper lake docks and at least 674,000 tons in reserve at the mines.
Anthracite supplies in the hands of retailers March 1, are greater than those at the same date in 1919 and 1920. The last estimate placed the stocks at 4,500,000.

DESERTION BY WIFE IS ALLEGED IN SUIT

Suit for divorce on the grounds of desertion had been filed in the superior court here today by Edward William Engsmann of Fullerton against Gertrude H. Engsmann. Attorney H. Delmer Thurber of Fullerton represented the plaintiff.

Engsmann's divorce papers state that he and the defendant were married in Fullerton August 2, 1916. The alleged desertion was said to have taken place September 11, 1920. The couple have one child, a daughter.

FARMERS PUT MELON LANDS INTO PEANUTS

TURLOCK, March 29.—Many Turlock farmers are considering putting their melon lands into peanuts, believing that a staple product is better than a perishable product.

Interest in the peanut industry was increased here when D. L.
Wolfe, who raised peanuts on an experimental plot last year, was advised by a big candy company that his peanuts were larger and better than any grown in Virginia or the South.

ASKS 40,000 KRONEN FOR ONE PINEAPPLE

VIENNA, March 29.—A man walked into the bar of one of the big hotels and placed a pineapple on the table.
"One pound sterling, or 40,000 kro-nen," he said.

There was no sale, but the incident served to illustrate the chaotic idea of values prevalent here. An Austrian smelled it gratefully, remarking:

"It's the first one I have seen since 1914."

FIND STOLEN CAR
The missing Overland car, belonging to John W. Estes Jr., was recovered today on West Highland street, Santa Ana. The car was stolen several days ago from Third street between Sycamore and Broadway.

Charge Czarists in Great Plot to Kill Red Leaders

BERLIN, March 29.—Hundreds of suspects in what the Berlin police believe to be a world-wide plot of czarist sympathizers to murder Russian revolutionaries, were arrested here today.

All railway stations were blocked and a mysterious automobile, believed to contain five czarist officers implicated in the attempted assassination of Professor Paul Miliukoff, was being trailed by secret police on motorcycles.

Lieutenant Schabelski Bork, arrested today for the shooting in Philharmonic hall last night, in which an attempt to slay Miliukoff resulted in the death of Vladimir Nabokow, proudly confessed he fired at the former Russian foreign minister.
"I am sorry I missed," Lieutenant Bork said.

RUSSIAN ENVOYS TO GENOA PARLEY FEAR ASSASSINATION PLOT

RIGA, March 29.—The first contingent of the Russian delegation to the Genoa conference arrived here today en route to Berlin.

A monarchist plot to assassinate the delegates was unearthed
by secret police and many arrests were made just before the Bolsheviks arrived.

Several Russians said to be long-
to a monarchist movement which was responsible for the attempt to assassinate Paul Miliukoff in Berlin last night have been captured.

MOSCOW, March 29.—Nikolai Lenine, in a farewell speech to the Soviet delegates to the Genoa conference declared:

"The Bolshevik retreat is finished, we can now resume our little steps forward."

"You go to Genoa, not as communists, but as bargainers. The results of the Genoa conference will depend largely upon your skill."

Our aims for Genoa are eminently practical. We seek to enlarge Russian commerce."

NAMES FORD IN GOVERNOR WINS $11,000,000 COURT SUIT SOUTH DAKOTA NOMINATION

(United Press Leased Wire)
ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 29.—
Governor William H. McMaster won the nomination as candidate for re-election as governor of South Dakota over his independent opponent, George W. Egan by from 20,000 to 25,000 majority, nearly complete returns today indicate.

This is the fourth time that Egan has been defeated for the Republican nomination to the office of governor and closes one of the most spectacular primary election campaigns ever waged in South Dakota.

CABINET TO CLOSE ALASKA COAL MINES

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Alaskan coal lands controlled by the navy department will be transferred, according to Secretary of the Interior Albert M. Fall.

This decision was reached at a cabinet meeting yesterday, where it was also decided that the mines would be shut down pending complete formulation of a new program, Fall said.

JOBS FOR 300 MEN DENVER, Colo., March 29.—The Denver and Rio Grande Western railway will add at least 300 men to its shop force at Burnham, it was announced here today.

Vote for the Sewer Bonds On Their Own Merits

Whatever may be the judgment of voters with respect to the other bond issues to be voted upon at next Tuesday's election, it is to be hoped that none will fail to give favorable consideration to the sewer bonds ON THEIR OWN MERITS. Each of the bonds propositions should stand or fall on its own merits. And considered thus independently THE SEWER BONDS SHOULD CARRY UNANI-MOUSLY.

As a business proposition, the city could make no better investment than to vote these sewer bonds. Indeed the city as a whole and every individual property owner would lose money if the sewer bonds should fail to carry. Adequate sewer facilities are absolutely necessary to the continued growth and prosperity of Santa Ana.

As a matter of health, we must have enlargement of capacity and extension of area of our sewer system. For several years past, in the summer time, we have been on the ragged edge of contamination from sewer gas because of inadequate carrying capacity of our outfall; and a large section of unsewered territory, rapidly becoming more populous in spite of its unsanitary condition, is a constant menace to the health of the entire city.

Even if the sewer bonds were not imperatively demanded by good business and good health considerations, do we want to live in a town whose atmosphere is tainted—if only to the sense of smell—by a backed up and overflowing outfall?

Such a condition for Santa Ana is unthinkable!

And if the question is asked, "Does such a condition exist or impend?" the answer is, "It certainly does exist to some extent and will certainly become unbearable in extent if not speedily relieved."

On this point there is no difference of opinion or testimony. It requires no engineer, or sewer expert or financial genius to convince any intelligent man or woman that Santa Ana MUST have extended collection and increased outfall sewer facilities as soon as it is physically possible to provide them.

COUNTY SOLONS TO CALL BIDS APRIL 18 ON CONTRACTS

A program of road improvement and replacement, covering various sections of the county and involving an expenditure of approximately $172,000, was under way today, the board of supervisors having called for bids on the various contracts to be opened April 18.

Among the improvements projected is that of re-paving the First street boulevard, from the east of the na-ving on West Fifth street, through Bolsa to connect with the Huntington Beach boulevard. This trip of 3 1/4 miles of concrete slab 20 feet in width and constructed to a depth varying from five to eight inches, according to soil conditions, will cost in the neighborhood of $70,000, it is estimated. Bids on this contract will be opened at 2 p. m. on the date selected.

Six other paving and grading contracts are included in the program, which the supervisors adopted late yesterday following an inspection trip over the highways. Bids on these contracts will be opened at 11
a. m. on the April date mentioned.

Plan Willite Paving.

Introduction of Willite paving, a form of asphalt, will mark the building of two roads proposed. One strip of 1 1/4 miles will be on the Huntington Beach boulevard between the Taft road and the city limits of Huntington Beach. The other will be a half mile strip between Westminster and the Huntington Beach
boulevard. Both roads will be built
five inches thick over the present
boulevards which have broken up under traffic. Together, their cost is estimated at $36,000.

Two miles of concrete paving are also slated for the Huntington Beach boulevard, one mile to lie between the Wintersburg and Talbot roads, and the other between the Westminster and the Huntington Beach
boulevard. Both roads will be built
five inches thick over the present
boulevards which have broken up under traffic. Together, their cost is estimated at $50,000.

A mile of asphalt-concrete road on Grand avenue between Buena Park and Northam, built 18 feet wide, will cost $19,000, it is estimated.

Browning avenue, east of Tustin, from the Irvine boulevard north for a distance of 1 1/2 miles, is scheduled to be graded and surfaced with rock and oil, at an estimated cost of $5,000.

Grading in Progress.

To secure an easier approach to the mesa north of Huntington Beach, Golden West avenue will be graded from Talbot road to Slater avenue
at an estimated cost of $2,500.

Actual cost of the road buildings proposed will probably fall somewhat below the estimates quoted, it was pointed out today at the office of the superintendent of highways, where sufficient time has been allowed for estimating the contracts closely.

VILLAGERS FLEE AS MOUNT AETNA ERUPTS

ROME, March 29.—Mount Aetna is in violent eruption with streams of fiery lava pouring down the mountain sides, threatening many towns with destruction, according to dispatches from Palermo.

MAY DEPORT ALIENS WHO SELL NARCOTICS

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Aliens violating the Volstead prohibition law or state laws prohibiting the sale of narcotics would be deported under provisions of a bill introduced in the house by Representative Johnson, Republican, Washington, chairman of the house immigration committee.

HOOPER IN COLORADO DENVER, Colo., March 29.—Her- bert Hoover, secretary of commerce, was expected to arrive here tomor- row to preside at hearings of the Colorado river commission. Today Hoover and representatives from sev- en states were scheduled to meet in Grand Junction, Colo.

BECOMES ELK

"Dr. J. E. Paul today was conducting business as usual and with his counter for the local team.

Cravath to Leave Here Saturday on Mystery Journey to Tennessee

"Gavvy" Cravath, former manager of the Philadelphia National league and Salt Lake Coast league, baseball teams, is not through with the national game.

That much became known here today when it was learned that he had made reservations to leave Santa Ana for Dyersburg, Tenn., next Saturday.

Since numerous big league and American association clubs are going through their spring training grind in the Southern states, it is safe to assume that Cravath is leaving to join one of them, it was pointed out.

Cravath has it that the great slugging American club with the Minneapolis club in the American association, probably in the capacity of a reserve player and scout.
Fans are strong for Cravath at Minneapolis. It was there that he achieved the fame that made him a major league star in later years.

SINN FEINERS LAUNCH DRIVE INTO ULSTER

Police Barracks Captured By Invading Forces and 15 Constables Are Made Prisoners.

BELFAST, March 29.—Irish border war broke out today when a large force of Sinn Feiners entered Belco, County Ferna-nagh, and stormed the police barracks, according to reports reaching here.

Ulster constables holding the barracks were made prisoners and fifteen of them were taken back to the free state side of the line.

LONDON, March 29.—Irish leaders of the North and South conferred for five hours today.
Progress towards an Irish agreement was made.

The conference, at which Winston Churchill presided, will be resumed tomorrow at 11:30 a. m.

BURCH'S MOTHER SPECTATOR AT DEATH TRIAL

LOS ANGELES, March 29.—Arthur
C. Burch's mother, a little woman, who smokes very much like the defendant in the famous Beverly Glen murder case, today heard Deputy Prosecutor Asa B. Keyes demand of prospective jurors whether or not they objected to the death penalty for murder.

Little Mrs. Burch, who doesn't weigh ninety pounds, clung to the arm of her husband, Rev. William A.
Burch, as the prosecutor put his grim question to witnesses after witness.

A sigh of relief came from the defendant's mother each time she heard the answer:
"I would not vote for the death penalty."

SEEK BOOTLEG NEST ON BRITISH ISLAND

HAVANA, Cuba, March 29.—
American prohibition enforcement agents are on their way to Nassau, British West Indies, to investigate the liquor smuggling industry.

here on the Esperanza, after investigating the bootlegging situation in Cuba. Two agents remained on guard here.

Nassau is reputed to be the base for smuggling liquor to the United States. It is off the Florida coast.

Harding Plans War Against Return Of 'Pork Barrel' System in House

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
WASHINGTON, March 29.—
President Harding is preparing to fight strongly against the return to the "pork barrel" system of appropriation which is threatened by house committees that have disregarded the figures of the budget bureau in framing pending supply measures, it was learned today.

He feels that the old wasteful methods will grow up again unless he demands rigid adherence to the expenditures recommended by budget officials.

SUBMARINE, POISON GAS TREATIES PASS

Lodge Announces Plan to Bring Up Chinese Document Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The senate today ratified the five power naval limitation treaty.

The vote was 74 to 1. Senator France, Republican, Maryland, cast
the only vote against the treaty.

The treaty includes the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan.

It provides for a ten year naval holiday, for the scrapping of many existing capital ships; limits the size of new war craft, including the total tonnage and size of air craft carriers, establishes a definite ratio of naval strength among the five nations;
maintains the status quo with respect to Pacific fortifications and prescribes regulations for the replacement of tonnage now in commission
when it becomes obsolete.

Lodge at once called up the treaty relating to submarines and poison gases. He hoped to have it ratified before adjournment.

Shortly before the vote was taken, Senator France, announced he would vote against the pact.

France said it was not easy for him to "mar the beautiful picture of unity" but he would vote against it because he felt it was a vote in behalf of the people's welfare.

The vote on the submarine-poison gas treaty was 71 to 0.

After the voting Lodge announced that the nine-power Chinese treaty, dealing with general policies for China, will be taken up tomorrow morning. This treaty guarantees the "open door" for China.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—Senator Hiram Johnson will back the five-power naval treaty, he announced in a statement telegraphed to San Francisco from Washington. He declared that disarmament was an entirely separate problem from the four power Pacific treaty which he referred to as "the quadruple alliance."

"Everybody desired, as I have repeatedly stated, a just limitation of armaments," he said. "The Hughes plan was met with universal acclaim."

LAWYERS FIGHT WATER DAMAGE PLEA IN SUIT

While attorneys debated over beet prices and other crop values to determine the losses which H. B. Anderson, Westminster rancher, declares he suffered because an irrigation ditch bank on the land of his neighbor, H. H. Vogt, backed storm water up on Anderson's property, he alleges, and sub-irrigated eight or ten acres, the trial of the case reached the defense stage today in Superior Judge R. Y. Williams' court.

The plaintiffs, represented by Attorneys West and Buck, rested their case shortly before noon and the defense counsel, Forgy and Reinhaus, started to present their evidence.

Anderson brought suit against Vogt and the latter's three Japanese tenants for $1,395, alleging that this amount represented his loss in the destruction of drainage pipe lines, crops for two seasons and the expense of building a new drainage system to reclaim sub-irrigated acres.

ENTERS GUILTY PLEA IN BAD CHECK CASE

Claude Blakeslee today entered a plea of guilty to a charge of writing a no-fund check, and filed application for probation with Superior Judge Z. B. West, who set the time for hearing for April 7 at 9:30 a. m.

Blakeslee, alias M. Powers, was charged with passing the worthless check, drawn for $13.75, upon P. H. Blum, local merchant. He was represented in court by Attorney Walter Eden, who was appointed by the court to defend the prisoner.

TALBERT WOMAN FACES DISTURBANCE CHARGE

Merced Savalla, Mexican woman of Talbert, was today scheduled to face trial in Justice J. B. Cox's court March 31 at 9 a. m. on a charge of disturbing the peace.

The complaining witness is Mariana Lopez, another Talbert Mexican woman, said to have quarreled with the defendant last Saturday and to have filed charges as a result.

The Savalla woman was arraigned late yesterday.

Turkish women are forbidden to dance in public.

Women farmers in the United States number 261,500.

SALES DAY SETS BUYING RECORD HERE, BELIEF

The silver loving cup, offered each month by The Register for the best display window in connection with Sales day, was awarded to the Nicky Hardware company. Of the judges selected this month only two were able to be present, two or three having been detained by illness.

The judges officiating in the contest were Mrs. George R. Rayburn of Garden Grove and Mrs. C. A. Wilkinson of Costa Mesa. The display at the Nicky hardware store was made up of sink strainers. Other windows coming close in the estimation of the judges were those of F. C. Blauer, Hill & Son, Miles Shoe company and Brydon's.

Hundreds of men and women from all parts of Orange county this morning braved an unpleasant drizzle, and filled the Santa Ana stores in search of bargains offered by merchants on the fifth Sales day. Later the sun began shining, though intermittently, and this had a favorable effect on the size of the crowds.

Early this afternoon business men were declaring this fifth Sales day even more successful than its predecessors. This was stated to be the case in spite of the fact that for the first time since the inauguration of the day, rain and overclouded skies greeted the bargain hunters.

Owing to a ruling by post office officials, prizes were not offered to holders of lucky numbers, yet the interest was just as keen and the enthusiasm was just as great as before.

Crowds Come Early

Many minutes before the doors of the shops were opened at 8 o'clock this morning, purchasers were lined up in front of them, and from that moment there was a continuous stream of persons entering and leaving the stores.

The streets in the business section were thronged, and heavy traffic added to the metropolitan appearance of the city. Orange county folk from even the most remote sections responded to the attractions placed before them, and men and women, heavily laden with parcels, were everywhere.

"I believe that today's sales day will prove to be the greatest success yet," declared the manager of one of the city's large dry goods stores. "We have accommodated more persons, and have sold more merchandise than at any previous time. This is very gratifying, in view of the unpleasant weather, and augurs well for the continued success of the Sales day idea."

Sets High Mark

Today's Sales day has done what we thought impossible," declared the proprietor of a men's furnishing store. "It has exceeded the most successful previous day, and will probably set a very high mark before this evening."

Anticipating heavy patronage, and endeavoring to avoid the disappointment of any bargain seekers, most of the stores stocked up heavily in preparation for today's event. That they were not wrong in their surmises, was proven by their depleted stocks early this afternoon.

NOTED TRAINER TO MANAGE ELKS' GYM.

(Special to The Register)

ANAHEIM, March 29.—Adding a gymnasium and Turkish baths to its recently completed building, the lodge of Elks at Anaheim has employed Roger Cornell to take charge, with Eddie Randall as an assistant.

Cornell was formerly a trainer for James J. Jeffries and Jack Johnson, and conditioned the Portland and San Francisco baseball teams of the Pacific coast during the years in which they won the pennant for the league.

He was also trainer with the Vernon team, Randall formerly was of St. Louis, where he directed the athletic activities of the St. Louis Athletic club.

GODOWSKY IN CONCERT AT FULLERTON UNDER EBELL CLUB AUSPICES

Leopold Godowsky, famous pianist, will appear at the Fullerton union high school on the evening of April 7 and not April 3, it was announced here today. Due to a misunderstanding of arrangements, the latter date was given on a number of placards on display in Santa Ana. Godowsky will appear under the auspices of the Ebell club of Fullerton. All seats will be reserved. Reservations may be made at the Brentwood shop, 108 Amerige street, Fullerton, or at Evans' candy store, corner Amerige and North Spadra, Fullerton, it is stated.

SPEEDER HEARS JUSTICE SAY, "TEN DAYS"

"Ten days!"

The fateful words were uttered once again today by Justice J. B. Cox as he ended an interview with Roy Daggett, of Hollywood.

Daggett had been timed at 56 miles an hour while riding his motorcycle along the El Toro boulevard last Monday. County Motorcycle Officers Carr and Warner both held watches on him. After the sentence had been pronounced he was led away to his cell in the county jail.

Officer Carr told the court that Daggett had wept when arrested and had begged to be allowed to go free. Daggett admitted the tears but denied the other statement.

"I advised him not to get that motorcycle," Daggett's father told the court. "He sold a car and bought it. This was his first trip. He went to San Diego, so he tells me, and was in a hurry to get back to his transfer business in Hollywood. He said the highway was clear ahead as far as he could see and that he was careful at the crossings—"

"He made that same 56 miles across the El Toro road crossing," Carr interposed.

The crossing was posted on both sides, Carr added.

"Oh, well, that doesn't matter," said the court. "If he was going that fast he couldn't see any signs."

D. H. Gibson was fined $10 today by Justice Cox for charging tires on the public highway.

Speed fines were collected as follows: V. Elliott, H. Fossett, W. Ritter, A. Ruoff, George S. Reymann, Roy Warren and L. B. Marshall, each $10; R. M. Mahaffey $15.

L. A. HARBOR SHARES IN NEW U. S. FUNDS

(United Press Leased Wire)

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—Plans for further improvement of Los Angeles harbor received impetus today following the announcement that congress had passed the river and harbor maintenance and improvement budget.

San Pedro will get $743,000 for harbor improvement out of the total of $48,000,000.

This money will be used for dredging, widening and straightening the main channel, according to Edgar McKee, president of the harbor commission.

With the channel dredged to 35 feet, McKee said that the largest vessels could be brought to the inner harbor without danger of striking sandbars at low tide.

Extra steps are also planned to take care of the increased freight traffic, he said.

POINCARÉ TO FORCE 18 MONTHS IN ARMY

PARIS, March 29.—Premier Poincaré intends to force the passage of a measure providing for eighteen months military service over the various substitute bills proposing a shorter period of service, he declared in a letter to the Entente Republic, which was read at the party meeting. The party voted to support the government.

AWAIT ARRIVAL HERE OF HEAD OF P. T. A.

With arrangements completed for the accommodation of 175 guests at the luncheon to be given at James's gold room next Friday, honoring Mrs. Milton P. Higgins, national president of the Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher association, Mrs. John Clarkson, chairman of the luncheon committee, and Mrs. Earl Morris, president of the Fourth District C. of M. and P. T. A., were today turning their attention to the program of music to be rendered during the luncheon hour.

The distinguished visitor has been much feted during her stay at San Diego, where the Ninth District members entertained with a luncheon in the San Diego hotel dining room with covers laid for 120 and with a tea and reception at the Balboa park auditorium.

She will leave San Diego tomorrow in company with her executive secretary, Miss Bottomly, and will arrive here at 6 o'clock. She will be a guest at St. Ann's Inn.

Mrs. Higgins will deliver the address of the afternoon at the Friday session to be held at the Congregational church and, following the day's program, will be taken on a drive through the many beauty spots of the county by the hostess committee.

From this city, she will go to Los Angeles to be entertained by the Los Angeles district C. of M. and P. T. A., after which she will continue her journey northward.

It was announced today by Mrs. Clarkson that, while not many more reservations for luncheon were expected, at the last minute W. H. James of the James confectionery would make a special effort to offer accommodation for those that do come.

SEDAN USED FOR STOCK SELLING TRIPS, CLAIM

Attorneys for Clinton Nelson, of Long Beach, today resumed their efforts before a jury in Superior Judge Z. B. West's court, to prove that C. Y. Young, whom Nelson is suing for damages and possession of a Nash sedan, used the car in his private business of selling oil stock instead of finding a buyer for the car, as Nelson claimed he was supposed to do.

The trial started yesterday and the plaintiff had not finished his case when court resumed today. Nelson, himself, was on the stand, the eleventh witness called by his counsel, John A. Harvey and S. M. Davis.

Some witnesses were summoned to testify regarding value and depreciation of the sedan, which the jury itself viewed late yesterday in order to get its own idea.

Other witnesses, including J. S. House, testified that they were taken from Santa Ana to Huntington Beach in the car to buy oil stock.

Roy F. Heard testified that he was engaged as driver of the car and made on an average of two round trips each day between the towns for a period of a month and a half. Nelson had charged that the car had been driven more than 5,000 miles since leaving his possession.

The sedan had been taken by Young, Nelson alleges, to be sold, and was, for that purpose, registered in Young's name, he says. Young kept the car claiming to have a special lien of $600 against it for services in caring for it.

Attorneys A. P. Nelson and C. N. Moxley represent Young in the action.

AMOUNT OF TAX INCREASE ON BONDS TOLD

Based on the assessed valuation of last year, $9,717,875, the city tax rate will be increased .3520 on the $100 assessed valuation if all the bonds carry at the election April 4, according to figures compiled and presented today by Ed Vegely, city clerk.

According to James Sleeper, county assessor, the assessed valuation of the city will be increased approximately $2,000,000, which will reduce the rate. The total amount to be raised the first year to take care of the bonds is figured by Vegely at $34,200. The city tax rate is now $1.60 and the additional amount for the bonds would increase it to $1.952.

Following is the amount of tax for each project, based on last year's valuation, together with the amount that would be raised:

Sewer bonds (both issues), .2477, $24,071; electric generating plant, .0578, $5,616.93; West Fifth paving, .0169, $1,642; West Seventeenth paving, .0123, $1,195; fire hall on east side, .0092, $894; Birch park, .0077, $748.

BEANS! BEANS!! BEANS!!!

It matters little what the price, if you don't get the beans. Great acres planted out to sea; if soil is shy of means. Plenty of water won't bring a bean; if the soil, of one element, chance to be lean. The NITROGEN'S first to be cleaned out; plumb clean. And when that is done "You don't get a bean." A man said to me "Other day in the bank," "I have your PURB CULTURE mostly warmly to thank for TWENTY GOOD DOLLARS each acre produced—over side by each acre, where none had been used. This was on "BLACK-BYES"; the field DID NOT SHOW, but warehouse receipts showed, just what made them grow." Another man, one of the thousand who'll state that "ALL UP TO DATE FARMERS NOW INOCULATE"; said: "40 per cent of GOOD LIMAS be raised!" "No reason on Earth but the "CULTURE" he praised!"

City and County

In announcing yesterday the sale of the Community hospital site of ten acres on North Main street an error was made in giving the sales price.
It was given as $25,000, whereas it should have been $32,500. The property was purchased six months ago for $30,000. The association is making a profit of $2500. It has received about $2500 for crops. Interest paid was about $1,000.

Santa Ana friends of Glenn Martin, pioneer flyer and builder of the famous bombing planes bearing his name, were interested today in the announcement that he would be the principal speaker at a meeting of the Aero club of Southern California in Los Angeles tonight. Martin will recount some of his experiences during his dozen years in aviation.

A last call to former residents of Nebraska now living in Santa Ana and Orange county urging them to attend the Southern California
"Cornhuskers" picnic tomorrow
at Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles, was issued today.

Plans are under way for the organization of a Community Players' association of Northern Orange county,
according to word received here today. Those interested will meet in the Fullerton grammar school April 6, when eleven directors will be named. The association will be conducted along lines similar to those of the Santa Ana organization.

The Huntington Beach company, which owns all the stock of the Huntington Beach Water company, a public utility, has asked authority of the railroad commission to exchange certain properties with the water company, according to word received here today. It is proposed to turn over to the water company known water bearing lands in exchange for lots owned by the water company on which are located wells producing an unsatisfactory water supply.

A new soda fountain, which is was hoped today to have in operation by next Saturday, is being installed at the Lion Candy kitchen, 211 West Fourth street.

An entertainment for the benefit of Tustin grammar school athletics will be held in the Tustin auditorium next Friday evening. The girls' glee club will present a musical number, while several instrumental solos are being arranged for. A motion picture, to be screened with the new projector belonging to the grammar school will complete the program.

BARE PROPOSED CHANGE IN LAW
OF C. OF C.

Voting powers in the Associated Chambers of Commerce will be governed by old-time political regulations, provided a constitutional amendment, which E. B. Camp, Anaheim, will submit at the annual meeting of the organization to be held tonight at St. Ann's Inn, is finally adopted, according to additional details of the proposed changes made public here today.

It became known that Camp proposes an amendment providing that the voting power of each organization affiliated with it and represented at a meeting shall be determined according to the number of members.
The membership of each chamber present will be called upon to determine the chamber's position on any question requiring a vote. Delegates to the county body are now elected by each of the affiliated bodies and only delegates are permitted to vote.
Under the proposed amendment a chamber not having representation
at a meeting will be denied the privilege of giving a proxy to another member-body.

Another feature proposed is the calling of the names of organization members, with members of each organization present standing in turn and being counted.

It is understood that Camp has gone through the constitution and made other changes to conform to the amendments, if they are adopted. The amendments cannot be adopted until the following meeting.

HENINGER'S VIEWS ON BONDING GIVEN

Editor Register: Do not take any chances on an experimental proposition such as installing a steam plant to compete with hydro-electric energy for the purpose of supplying current for ornamental lights in a small section of the down-town district. On the other hand, vote for the sewer bonds.

I am decidedly opposed to the city going into the lighting business. My observation has been that these municipal ventures have not been a success. The $75,000 for lighting bonds put on the ballot would only be a starter and would soon be spent. Steam generation of electricity has been abandoned, excepting for standby purposes, and it impresses me as being the height of folly for our taxpayers to bond themselves for a proposition which would mean going into competition with the Edison company, which with its enormous hydro-electric properties on the mountain streams, can certainly furnish us with service which will be less expensive and much more efficient.

We need sewers, and we need them at once. I desire to see the sewer bonds carry, and since the electric bonds have been put on the ballot I hope the voters who have the best interests of the city at heart, will vote against the power bonds and not allow them to defect the sewer bond issue.

Another thing which we must keep in mind is that Santa Ana is on the verge of being water bound.
I understand that certain subdivisions are handicapped on account of lack of water supply. These tracts could soon be built up with homes, the building of which would furnish employment for many men and would mean the purchase of material at home, because the city is not in a position to supply it with water. On the other hand, the Edison company is prepared to give it adequate lighting service at any time.
Why should we vote bonds to go into competition with the service which is already adequate to supply the greatest demands of the city and forget about providing a water supply, which is the first essential for every community?

As soon as the sewer situation is settled, our next move should be to provide for the growth of the city by obtaining the best and most enduring water supply possible.

I do not think it is fair for the residents of the outlying portion of the city to be asked to bond themselves for special ornamental lighting in the down-town district. These ornamental lights can be provided for by establishing a lighting district
the same as is done in other cities, and I do not see how anybody can question that hydro-electric energy is so much cheaper than steam, that to go into a steam generating proposition is turning back to the time when oil was about one-third of its present price, or 50 cents a barrel.

The allegation that F. E. Regan had assumed the name of F. E. Regan when he married her, his true

had also misrepresented his age as

MISS ARLIE CRAVATH ENTERS CONTEST FOR NEW YORK VACATION

Miss Arlie Cravath, former assistant secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce and now secretary to District Attorney A. P.
Nelson, desires to pass her summer vacation in New York.

In anticipation of realizing this ambition she has entered a contest being conducted by a Los Angeles newspaper in which vacation prizes to New York are offered as prizes for the successful contestants.

Friends have already interested themselves in her behalf and the Chamber of Commerce has endorsed her as the logical person to represent this county on a trip to New York because of her familiarity with conditions and resources of Orange county and a information gained through her five years of service with the local boost organization.

MARRIAGE WRECKED
BY BABE, SUIT PLEA

Instead of happiness, a babe brought dissension to the home of Edna and Eugene Edwards. It appeared today in the complaint for divorce brought by the wife, which papers were on file today in the superior court.

Quarrels over the care of the infant were followed by abusive treatment from her husband, Edna Edwards alleges. She charges him with cruelty and abuse with non-supportance.

They were married in Santa Ana, March 14, 1918. The child, a boy, is now two years old. During these last two years, preceding their separation March 9 of this year, the dissension is shown to have crept in.
Always it centered around the babe.

The wife's mother, who was helping with the household shortly after the birth of the boy, was forced by her son-in-law to leave the house, the complaint alleged.

Later at their home near Westminster, he slapped her, she asserted, because she desired to bathe the baby.

He also slapped the child when it cried at night, she charges. On another occasion, she alleges, he locked her in a closet for twenty minutes when she desired to care for the child.

Custody of the baby is asked in

WOMAN HELD IN AUTO
CASE GIVEN LIBERTY

Release of Evelyn Nerdin, arrested at Las Vegas, Nevada, for having, it was alleged, attempted to sell a Ford car purchased in Santa Ana but not fully paid for, was announced today
in a telegram received by Sheriff C.
E. Jackson from Sheriff Sam Gay, of Las Vegas.

An offer made by Knox and Stout, local Ford dealers, from whom the car had been secured upon payment of one installment on the purchase price, was accepted by the woman, who released her rights to the car by executing a bill of sale back to the agents on the understanding that the criminal charge against her would not be pressed.

The Ford, Gay's message said, is now held at the Conking Brothers garage in Las Vegas, with a garage bill against it.

Saws filed—Hawley's.

PROPOSE COUNTY
BODY CONSIDER
WASTE WATER

County-wide organization for the development of plans for conserving the waste waters of all the streams of Orange county, with the possibility of ultimately organizing a storm district embracing all of Orange county, will be the recommendation of the committee on permanent organization appointed by the committee on water conservation named by the Associated Chambers of Commerce some months ago, at a meeting of the latter committee to be held in Anaheim next week, according to Harry W. Lewis, member of the organization committee. The other members are Fred Alhborn, of Anaheim, and George Bates, of Orange.

The date for the meeting will be selected later. It is possible that Alhborn will make reference to the plans at tonight's meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce
at St. Ann's Inn here, as he is chairman of the original committee.

The organization committee was in conference this week with Attorney L. F. Coburn of Orange, for discussion of plans for organization.
"Conservation of the waste waters of Orange county is a big project," Lewis said today. "The committee feels that there should be a large county organization to go into the matter and decide what is best to do. The committee has no method to recommend and will leave that entirely to a county wide organization. We will propose that the subject be taken up by the farm centers of the county so that everyone may become familiar with the subject and take action that may lead to development of a definite plan of operation in the solution of the problem."

"We have discussed the advisability of creating a storm district to include all of the county. We believe that every acre of land in the county would benefit by proper conservation of the run-off waters of the county streams and for that reason the whole county should share in whatever expense may be incurred in execution of plans that may be finally decided."

SISTER OF SICK SIAMESE TWIN READY TO DIE

CHICAGO, March 29.—Hope for recovery of Rosa and Josefa Blazek, Siamese twins suffering from jaundice, was held out by physicians at West End hospital here today. Although both were in a stupor, Dr. Edward Cunat declared that it was not at all unusual for persons suffering from that complaint to spend several days in a comatose state and then recover. It will probably take four days to determine whether or not the twins will survive.

BY CARL VICTOR LITTLE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CHICAGO, March 29.—Rosa Blazek, today will die with her Siamese twin sister Josefa. She discouraged physicians who suggested an operation to separate her from the dying Josefa may save her life. Rosa would not even allow an X-ray examination to be made to determine whether an operation could be successfully performed. "I would not continue on without Josefa if it were possible," she said. "If death comes to her, I too, must go."

Ready to Die
Rosa's decision to die with her sister was reached after she had wavered between a desire to live for her twelve year old son Frantz or meet death with her twin.

It became known at the West End hospital, however, that Rosa had made ample provision for the care and education of Frantz.

Surgeon's attributed Rosa's lapses into semi-coma as evidence of her desire to pass on with Josefa. They pointed out that her physical condition was apparently good in contrast to Josefa, victim of jaundice.

The twins, according to Dr. Breakstone, who talked to them at length when they entered the hospital, never afforded medical science the opportunity to investigate the possibility of separation.

"They never cared to know whether they could have gone through life as separate beings," said the doctor.

Son at Bedside
Frantz spent the day at the bedside of Rosa, his mother, and Josefa, his aunt.

Every possible method known to medical science was being used to save the lives of the twins. Dr. Breakstone said, however, lack of scientific data on the mystery of the existence of Siamese twins was a great handicap.

Rosa and Josefa were born in Austria 43 years ago. They came to the United States a year ago after touring Europe for a decade with shows. Rosa's husband was killed fighting the Bolsheviks on the Polish front.

GIRL ACCUSES FILM MAN IN HUGE SUIT

(United Press Leased Wire)

LOS ANGELES, March 29.—Herbert Rawlinson, movie star, today prepared for a bitter fight over the $200,000 damage suit filed against him by Mrs. Ethel E. Clark, alleging that Rawlinson attacked her daughter, Dorothy Clark, in New York on October 15, 1920.

Dorothy Clark is an actress. The mother, in whose name the action was filed, is a resident of Brookline, Mass.

Attorney J. C. Stickney of San Diego is representing the Clarks.

Rawlinson today branded the suit as simply an attempt at extortion.

"I gave Mrs. Clark small sums of money from time to time, in response to her tales of woe," he said. "That's the entire extent of my relations with the woman or her daughter. This suit is an obvious attempt to obtain more money from me."

Rawlinson at the present time has a divorce action pending against his wife, known professionally as Alberta Arnold. He charges she deserted him.

JOFFRE'S VISIT TO L. A. IS CANCELLED

(United Press Leased Wire)

VICTORIA, B. C., March 29.—Although Marshal Joffre's triumphal trip across the continent will be radically curtailed, there will be no change in the plans for his Seattle visit, it is announced.

The famous French general was ordered by Premier Poincare to proceed shortly to New York to represent the French republic at the unveiling of the U. S. Grant statue.

Joffre will arrive in Seattle tomorrow night and will spend Friday resting. Saturday he will carry out his public program there, departing for Portland Sunday.

From San Francisco the marshal will go directly to New York, making no stops en route. His visit to Los Angeles, for which elaborate preparations were made was eliminated.

Today Marshal Joffre will honor the memory of the Canadian dead with a tree planting ceremony. The program for Thursday includes a short visit to Vancouver, an inspection of the peace arch at Blaine and arrival in Seattle at 9 o'clock in the evening.

NATURE GUIDES ASSIST YOSEMITE TOURISTS

A Yosemite outing means an unusual opportunity to widen one's bird acquaintances. Of woodpeckers, which act as tree surgeons, for example, Yosemite national park has about a dozen species. Of these at least four are quite unfamiliar to the average Californian. One is the handsome pink-breasted, metallic-green Lewis woodpecker. Another is the active three-toed woodpecker, a bit of reminder of the climate of bygone days when Yosemite's domes were polished by the ice-cap. A third is the white-headed, another strange member of the woodpecker clan. Its black-and-white markings, like the "sawtooth" brilliant hues are, after all, protective.

BOMB FAILS TO BREAK UP BIG DRY MEETING

(United Press Leased Wire)

GREEN BAY, Wis., March 29.—William (Pussyfoot) Johnson, anti-liquor crusader, was guarded today following an attempt to bomb a meeting he was to address.

The bomb was thrown into the Union Congregational church as an audience of 500 were awaiting for Johnson to appear last night.

F. C. Walker saw smoke curling from the infernal machine, grabbed it and threw it out of a door. The bomb proved a "dud." Walker was slightly burned.

Johnson addressed the meeting later.

"I have no fears," he said, pointing to his eye, which was blinded during a demonstration against him in England.

Examination of the bomb today disclosed it was crudely made—probably the work of an amateur. It was made of black powder, packed in a tin can.

Lewis L. Holton, Spokane, Wash., prohibition lecturer, had the floor when the bomb was thrown. He stopped a panic by pleading to the audience to remain calm.

Johnson was speaking at another church on "the new India" at the time.

DECIDE FOR ONE STORY SCHOOL BUILDING

Two of Santa Ana's three new grammar schools will be one story buildings, it was decided this afternoon, in a conference between the board of education and the architects in charge of the plans.

Claiming that the schools will always be in "bungalow" sections of the city, members of the board instructed Architects Fred Eley and M. J. Kistner to complete plans for one story buildings on the East Fourth street and the South Flower street sites. The architects had presented several sketches of two story structures, but the board decided against them.

Sketches of the proposed "downtown" school, to replace the present Washington school, were examined by the board, but with practically no discussion, they were laid on the table. Indications pointed to a decided leaning on the part of board members toward the selection of a site on North Main street, with offices possibly situated nearer the center of the city.

Charles A. Chapman and William H. Spurgeon Jr. were scheduled to appear before the board late this afternoon regarding the choice of a site for the proposed Y. M. C. A. building. Y. M. C. A. officials are known to have been considering the site of the present Washington school, and although neither members of the "Y" committee would indicate what action would be taken, it was regarded as likely that this arrangement would be among others discussed in the conference today.

WOMEN'S SHOES STOLEN FROM FREIGHT CAR

Theft of a packing case containing twenty-four pairs of women's shoes consigned to Reinhaus brothers, local merchants, occurred between San Bernardino and Santa Ana, F. T. Smith, Santa Fe agent here notified Sheriff C. E. Jackson this afternoon.

The loss of the shoes was discovered when the train reached Santa Ana early today. Seals of the car had been broken.

Santa Fe detectives are working on the case, Smith stated.

The value of the shoes may reach $100, though it was stated at the Reinhaus store that the exact amount of loss could not be ascertained until the whole shipment, of which the stolen case was a part, is checked up.

The Rev. G. Bromley Oxnam, pastor of the Church of All Nations, Los Angeles, will be the speaker at the Kiwanis-American meeting of the Kiwanis club here at St. Ann's Inn April 7 at 7 p. m. The Rev. John Oliver, pastor of the First Methodist church, announced at today's meeting of the club.

It will be a social meeting and women and other guests of the club members will be present. The Rev. Dr. Oxnam is a man with a big message and is well known as an orator.

CLASH RAIL RATES ON SHIPMENTS FOR PACIFIC VIA GULF

WASHINGTON, March 29.—A reduction of class and commodity rates from Chicago and related points to South Atlantic and gulf ports on goods destined for the Pacific coast via steamship lines was ordered today by the interstate commerce commission. The commission suspended a recent order which would increase the rates and found the proportional rates justified.

(United Press Leased Wire)

WASHINGTON, March 29.—To recognize the Obregon government of Mexico without a definite agreement on fundamental issues between the United States and that country would only invite further trouble, it was declared today by a high government official.

There must be an understanding between the two countries for the protection of property and other rights in Mexico, it was declared.

BIG PROPERTY DEAL REPORTED AT BYRON

BYRON, March 29.—The Bank of Byron, through Manager E. C. Hannum, reports this week the sale of the E. I. Voorheis property of 160 acres, located just east of Byron on the Diablo highway, to Manuel C. Vieira of Oakdale, consideration not given.

Vieira will immediately begin building improvements and install a model certified dairy that will add further prestige to the Byron country as a dairy center. Vieira was attracted to the Byron country through the attractive alfalfa production hereabouts.

Much credit is due the Bank of Byron and Hannum for bringing the new investor into the community.

HARVESTER CO. WOULD BAN PRISON TWINE

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The International Harvester company desires the passage of the bill now before Congress which would prevent interstate shipment of prison goods, because it wants to close up the binder twine factories in the middle west state penitentiaries.

Warden Fogarty, state penitentiary of Indiana, told the house labor committee. The committee is considering the bill. The penitentiary factories produce nearly 30 per cent of the binder twine consumed in the United States, and thus fix the price paid by the farmers.

Address By Will H. Hays

At The Annual Meeting of The Motion Picture Directors' Association, New York City:

"The motion picture industry accepts the challenge in the demand of the American public for the highest quality of art and interest in its entertainment.

"The industry accepts the challenge in the demand of the American youth that its pictures shall give to them the right kind of entertainment and instruction.

"We accept the challenge in the righteous demand of the American mother that the entertainment and amusement of that youth be worthy of their value as the most potent factor in the country's future.

"By our opportunities are our responsibilities measured. From him to whom much is given much is required. The potentialities of the motion picture as a source of amusement, which is necessary, and as a moral influence and educational factor are limitless.

"If this is so, and it is undeniable, then just as that opportunity is great, so in like measure is the responsibility. That responsibility is accepted. Our Association is dedicated to the aid of the industry in the discharge of these obligations. It is a task that commands the best efforts of every one.

"With an appreciation of this industry's importance in the business world and a full knowledge of its own great future, yet in that spirit of humility which recognizes difficulties and limitations, this Association takes up its work in the confidence born of the knowledge of its own earnest purpose, and with the conviction that we will have the sympathy and co-operation of all those connected in any way with the industry itself and the co-operation and sympathy of the public, whose servant the industry is."

Silver Cord Masons Prove Delightful Hosts at Card and Dancing Party

The "joy special" carried its passengers straight to the temple last night and there left them for an evening of complete pleasure as the guests of Silver Cord lodge who offered cards and dancing as the amusement feature of the evening.

Masonic dances have proven highly popular all winter, and announcement that the Silver Cord were to extend their hospitality for the first time, seemed to call out all those who had enjoyed the series as given by Santa Ana Lodge No. 241, with the result that the largest crowd of the season was present and intent upon having a good time.

Bouldin's orchestra offered such appealing music that it was impossible not to dance and a varied program of waltzes, two-steps, one-steps and fox trots was given with an occasional ladies' pursuit or Jaul Jones to offer still more variety.

While the dancers were enjoying their favorite amusement in the ballroom over half a hundred persons were playing cards in the lodge rooms where a dozen tables were in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walters.

The expert players proved to be Mrs. Griffith and Mrs. Lewis among the women, the former receiving a box of fine linen stationery and the latter a deck of playing cards, while among the men, Messrs. Van Aiken and Stewart were the fortunate ones, Van Aiken being awarded a silver pencil bearing the Masonic emblem, and Stewart receiving a deck of fine cards.

Winter Visitors Honored at Pretty Luncheon

One of the pleasant little informal events of the week in social circles, was the luncheon given yesterday by Mrs. Charles A. Morey, 336 Nineteenth street.

Given to honor a little group of winter visitors, the affair called together Mrs. Vadia Cooper of Indianapolis; Mrs. S. A. Gowdy of Melbourne, Iowa; Mrs. Byrd Clouser and the hostess, Mrs. Morey.

Vividly colored calendulas offered effective decorations both for the attractively appointed table and for the rooms in general. The afternoon was spent in social chat.

Welcome Little Son

Santa Ana friends were today wiring congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. George I. Linn of Palo Alto, following announcement of the arrival in the Linn home of Master William Leland Linn who at once assumes the reins of government.

The young man's mother will be warmly remembered as Miss Anna May Chum of Holt avenue, Tustin and a graduate of the Santa Ana high school with the class of 1916 after which she went to Pomona college completing her course with the class of 1920.

His father, deceased head of the household, George I. Linn, was a graduate of Huntington Beach Union high school, class of 1914; of Stanford university in 1919 and is now completing work towards his master's degree. The little new-comer is a lusty youngster, weighing 9 pounds at birth which occurred March 23.

Current Events

Journeying through the Yellow stone, stopping now to gaze at a geyser throwing immense volume of water high in the air, now at a sparkling waterfall outlined against the pine tree background, members of the Current Events section of Eboli had a delightful stay-at-home journey yesterday afternoon, personally conducted by Mrs. H. Marvin Morrison, and with Mrs. Kennel Brown offering her honorable Cypress street home as a conveyance.

After roll call, to which the members responded with current events as is their usual custom, Mrs. Morrison read the article, "The Amazing Yellowstone" written by Howard H. Hayes, president of the Yellowstone Park commission and appearing recently in The Rotarian.

This was commemorative of the fiftieth anniversary of the discovery of the wonders of the region, by an exploring party whose members possessed a breadth of vision sufficient to declare that the land should be preserved for the public good.

The different features of wonder and magnificence were discussed in detail and it was stated that new discoveries were constantly being made, in the past year over forty waterfalls having been added to the number already known.

Mrs. Brown's home presented an attractive appearance for the afternoon, she having been the fortunate recipient of a great mass of peach blossoms through the courtesy of her friend, Mrs. William Beach who realized that their loveliness would harmonize with the rose color scheme which predominates in the pretty home.

At a late hour in the afternoon, the little hostess group, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. E. B. Van Meter and Mrs. A. W. Williams served a dainty two course menu of chicken salad, sandwiches, coffee and orange fluff to those present who included two special guests, Mrs. E. B. Trago and Miss Margaret Sorter and the members, Mrs. Charles Kendall Jr., Mrs. George Paul Jr., Mrs. Fred Chapman, Mrs. Roy Chaudler, Mrs. Herman Nixon, Mrs. Ray Addinison, Mrs. H. M. Morrison, Mrs. Roy Vincent, Mrs. C. V. Doty, Mrs. Harold Nelson, Mrs. Harvey Gardner, Mrs. A. H. Patterson, Mrs. Ray Townsend, Mrs. Ray Moncrief, Mrs. Robert Mize, Mrs. John Irwin and Mrs. Fred Stever.

Past Matrons

Officers to serve the Past Matrons' association of Hermosa Chapter O. E. S. during the coming year, were elected at an interesting meeting held yesterday at Masonic temple.

The newly elected officers consisted of Mrs. W. D. Barker, president, to succeed Mrs. Arthur Pease, present president; Mrs. Frank True, vice president; Mrs. Fred Bomboy, treasurer and Mrs. Cora Cavins, secretary. Preceding the election, a delicious luncheon was enjoyed with surprise dishes figuring on the menu being brought by the different members under the direction of Mrs. Pease, Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Prince Tope and Mrs. H. T. Trueblood, the hostess committee. Cherokee roses made the tables wonderfully attractive and the affair was highly enjoyed.

Members of the association present included Mesdames Barker, Cavins, Drake, Henry, Harvey, Holmes, Hammond, Huntington, Medlock, Mitchell, Moore, Pease, Peck, Peabody, Reinhaus, Thomas, Tope, True, Trueblood, Wimbler, Hulbert, McCormac and Bomboy.

The April meeting of the association will be at the delightful home of Mrs. J. W. McCormac, 112 Church street, with Mrs. McCormac, Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Harvey as hostesses.

Eastern Star

That charming debutante, Santa Ana chapter O. E. S., was in her glory Monday night at her first affair since the formal "coming-out party" a few weeks ago. Masonic Temple was of course, the scene of the meeting, when with all the grace and ease of long established custom, officers of the chapter, assumed their places and carried on the regular business of a chapter meeting.

Worthy Matron Helen Vianna Kellogg and Worthy Patron James T. Carter, welcomed their guests, who outnumbered chapter members present and included as guests of honor, Worthy Matron Kate Cornelius and Worthy Patron John A. Harvey of Hermosa chapter, each of whom gave a short but appreciative talk, strengthening the bonds of goodwill existing between the sister chapters.

At the conclusion of the regular session, the members and guests formed in line with Mrs. Cornelius and Mr. James Carter leading, followed by all guests, then officers and finally members of the Santa Ana chapter, and to the inspiring strains of "Wearing of the Green" as played by the chapter musician, Miss Oahu Rose Kellogg, proceeded to the banquet hall.

Those in honor of St. Patrick's month of March, the tables, arranged in the form of a hollow square, bore an array of Irish garlands with each place marked by a shamrock holder bearing a lighted candle. After the members were seated, the candles were blown out with a wish for the new chapter's continued growth and prosperity, making a pretty ceremony.

The amber coffee prepared and served under the direction of Messrs. Raymond Moncrief and S. C. Mock proved those gentlemen expert at art of home brew. With the coffee, was served delicious home made cake while sandwiches of various kinds added to the pleasures of the little feast.

The ringing notes of the orchestra playing during the serving of refreshments proved so inspiring to the Irish lads and lassies present, that many of them took the occasion to enjoy a terpsichorean whirl or two before final goodnights were sounded.

Gainsborough's "Blue Boy" Subject of Speculation as to Exhibition

"Will the Gainsborough masterpiece, "The Blue Boy," about which such columns have been written since its purchase by Henry E. Huntington of San Marino near Pasadena, be placed on exhibit so that the public may have the opportunity of seeing one of the old masters?"

It was stated today by Mrs. W. L. H. Ben, who chanced to be in Pasadena at the time of its arrival under the careful and unceasing guardianship of three men including Duveen himself of the famous Duveen galleries, that speculation was rife in that city as to whether the privilege was to be accorded the American public.

Mrs. Beaton spoke of the care exercised in bringing the invaluable painting across the continent. A drawing room was utilized and there the picture was kept with one of the trio of guards in constant attendance—never removing his eyes from the canvas.

Painted by Gainsborough to prove to his contemporaries, his contention that an idea might be successfully carried out into tones of the same color, "The Blue Boy" is one of the most remarkable canvases ever known, presenting a lad just leaving boyhood, wearing a wonderful court dress of deep blue satin and carrying a half carelessly, a blue plumed hat typical of the period, all against a dream background of spacious parks.

Handsome, debonaire, all boy and yet almost a man, "The Blue Boy" stands with the courtly grace and serene carriage of a child of race.

The London Times expressed for the English, their feelings at seeing such a treasure depart from their shores:

"We told him he was going because we had not enough money to keep him, and that it is the very rareness and exquisiteness of his beauty which caused our loss; not indifference or lack of love. He should never cease to love us, but should also love our cousins overseas to whom he is bound, and should tell them that if he had to go, we would rather it were to them than to people of an alien race."

The immense sum of 300,000 pounds sterling or practically $1,000,000 was paid for the picture which was on exhibition in New York City before being brought to its final home at San Marino.

While it was in New York, Miss Mildred Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Madden and a student at Columbia University had the pleasure of seeing it.

Dates Announced for W. C. T. U. Convention

The Orange County W. C. T. U. convention will be held in Orange April 18-19 in the Christian church. A good program is being arranged and the public is invited.

Personals

Nels Peterson, 411 Orange avenue, left yesterday for St. Paul, Minn., traveling via the Southern Pacific.

R. S. Kimberlin, 616 South Main street, left today for a combined business and pleasure trip to Texas. He will spend a few days with his daughter at Redworth and will also be called to San Antonio and Amarillo on business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. John Prough, formerly of Dodge City, Kansas, were so delighted with Santa Ana upon the occasion of a recent visit here with W. B. Martin, that it is possible they may locate here permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Flora of Detroit, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Gowdy of Melbourne, Iowa, who have been spending the winter in California, principally in this city, spent Sunday in San Diego, returning Monday morning. Mrs. Byrd Clouser, 1329 Custer street, formerly of Orange and a sister of Mrs. Gowdy and Mr. Flora, also enjoyed the outing.

Mrs. Thomas E. Creed and her daughter, Virginia Bell, well known dancer, with a company now playing in Los Angeles, Monday motored to Pasadena, where they were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. Alger, old friends, who formerly lived here.

Woman's Club

Mrs. R. Ruth Tiffany, 1316 Spurgeon street, will be hostess to the members of the Santa Ana Woman's club upon the occasion of their next meeting, Tuesday, April 4, at 2:30 p. m.

COSTA MESA

COSTA MESA, March 29.—Methodist Community church bazaar was held on Thursday. The ladies had worked so faithfully for this occasion and it was a great success.

A large crowd was present at dinner and during the day the bazaar articles "went like hot cakes," especially the aprons. Several orders were taken by the ladies for other aprons.

A quantity of ice cream and cake was served. The fish pond was no small feature of the day—especially with the children, who exhausted the supply of fishes and also their nickels.

In the evening those present were delightfully entertained with music by the Reid Sisters, Messrs. Jones and Cockerel and Mr. and Mrs. Owens and Mrs. D. H. Reid.

Miss Marie Carruthers favored the audience with a selection, from Paul Lawrence Dunbar, in a very pleasing manner.

The song of little Meta Rehme was pleasing to everyone. The ladies realized the neat sum of approximately $100.

On a recent Sunday Mrs. Gladys Adams, of Costa Mesa, was entertained at the Long Beach Auditorium—this being the occasion of her birthday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Shallenberger and son and also Mr. and Mrs. Smith Shallenberger, Mr. and Mrs. Will Taber and daughter Rose, of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Seery, of Waterbury, Conn., Mrs. A. M. Read, of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Ford of Eagle Rock City.

The afternoon was pleasantly spent on the beach and in taking snapshots. Mrs. Adams went to Long Beach on Friday and returned on Monday evening.

Mrs. Elmer Greener and Mrs. Bert Simons entertained on Wednesday afternoon at the home of the latter in honor of Mrs. John Jones. A large number of ladies were present and dainty refreshments were served. A large cake was beautifully decorated with pink and blue. A large bird was formed of icing and little Kewpies were all around the cake. It indeed the work of an artist and palatable as well as ornamental.

COSTA MESA, March 29.—The Rev. Mr. Brown, Mrs. Brown and two children, of Corona, came to Costa Mesa Sunday morning. The Rev. Mr. Brown preached his first sermon as pastor of Costa Mesa church. He and his wife have been missionaries to China. They seem to be very much endeared to their work in the foreign field. He will be here Wednesday evening for prayer meeting.

The people of Costa Mesa will be interested in knowing that Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Wygant are the proud parents of a new baby girl, whose name is Faith, born at Dr. Waffles in Santa Ana, on March 22. Mr. and Mrs. Wygant and family lived in Costa Mesa until about seven weeks ago when they moved to Newport Beach.

On account of preventing circumstances the Friday Afternoon Bible class met with Mrs. D. H. Reid instead of Mrs. W. Mellott. A number of ladies were present who enjoyed the study.

Miss Lena Walker, a sister of Mrs. K. H. Hinkle, who has been here a few days, is just recovering from an automobile accident. Her friends will be glad to hear of her recovery.

W. E. Wallace and little son, Edward, visited with his half-brother, James Evans, of Costa Mesa, on Saturday afternoon.

Roy Pottinger, of Los Angeles, spent Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Hinkle. Sam Ray, of Los Angeles, called on the Clarks Thursday.

L. A. Phyle, of Whittier, is visiting his daughter over Sunday, Mrs. W. S. Jones.

SUPERB SETTINGS IN MARION DAVIES' PLAY
Libraries of America and Europe were searched for architectural information by Cosmopolitan experts before the building of the magnificent settings in "The Bride's Play," a Paramount picture starring Marion Davies, was begun.

In this picture, now showing at the West End theater much of the action centers about a medieval Irish castle. The castle is one of the most majestic ever seen on the screen and is, moreover, notable for the remarkable detail of carving, fretwork, and other features of ancient architecture which distinguish it.

Miss Davies plays two roles in "The Bride's Play"—that of a modern mischievous and lovable brunette and that of an Irish maiden of long ago. In the medieval part of the story she wears a wedding gown of wonderful richness and displays gems worth $25,000.

"The Bride's Play" was directed by George W. Terwilliger, from the story of the same name by Donn Byrne. Wyndham Standing supports Miss Davies and others in the cast are Carlton Miller, Jack O'Brien, Thea Talbot, Richard Cummings and others.

WILLIAM FAIRBANKS IN THRILLER AT THE PRINCESS
"A Western Demon" starring William Fairbanks met with popular approval at the Princess yesterday and is to be screened there again tonight, giving way tomorrow to Frank Mayo and May Collins in "The Shark Master." Others interesting and gloom-destroying films also appear on the Princess screen in connection with the William Fairbanks' feature.

Princess Mary's Wedding
Scenes from Princess Mary's wedding and the activities revolving about the occasion are to be screened at the Princess theater tonight in the News weekly, according to announcement made today by Charles E. Walker, manager of the theater.

THREE-MINUTE INTERVIEWS WITH SANTA ANA SCREEN FAVORITES

BY FRANCES DEANER

GARETH HUGHES

Gareth Hughes, who is a Welch boy, just recently has reached his majority. He has been on the stage since he was 15 years old, when he joined a Shakespearean road company in England. He came to the United States with the Welch players and then joined the Ben Greet company. He appeared later with the late James O'Neill, with Leo Dittichstein, Elsie Ferguson, Marguerite Clark, with the Washington Square players, and in many other productions in New York, Boston and Philadelphia. His greatest triumph on the spoken stage was in New York as the boy lieutenant in the war play, "Moloch."

When the United States entered the World War he enlisted as a private but he got no nearer the front than a training camp where he fought the battle of Camp Wadsworth. In Boston after the war Gareth Hughes starred in "Dark Rosalind," which was written for him by Whitford Kane. Belasco produced the piece later in New York.

In the meantime Metro pictures signed the brilliant young player to a long-term contract. By special arrangement he was loaned to Famous Players-Lasky for the production of Barrie's "Sentimental Tommy," and it was in the role of the whimsical Tommy that Santa Ana players first took Gareth Hughes to their hearts.

In concluding this little sketch of him, I know of no finer tribute to his talent than that which was given him by the critical-trade reviewer of the Motion Picture News, John L. Kelly, who said:

"Gareth Hughes, whether you will or not, can walk onto a set and give a performance before the camera that is second to none, not excepting those of the million dollar stars who have condescended after much argument and flourishing of check books, to take a 'fling' at the movies during summer vacation. Speaking of 'running the gamut of dramatic emotions'—wait until you see this young fellow run the scale. In the parlance of the street, he's there."

"Nothing succeeds like excess." This is the working motto of Gareth Hughes. When he is busy working in a picture he has a time schedule that runs from 6 o'clock in the morning to 9 o'clock at night. And it agrees with him.

"It's just that I am so intensely interested in my work that nothing else really matters," said Gareth Hughes when interviewed for the Register in response to requests from Orange county picture patrons, who are interested in his re-creations for the silent stage.

"The work does not tire me. There's a zestful excitement about every minute of it. But when the day is over I am just about as tired—if not quite—as a Tired Business Man. A cold plunge, a light supper and I'm off to the land of dreams, as they call it. Only there are no dreams since I have gone into this thing intensely."

"While a picture is being made, I live the character I am portraying, and I want to live him 24 hours a day—even sleeping him. I don't want any outside distractions. Friends, social obligations, sports, my interests in art and music—I forget all these. My life has become that of a motion picture player and I live for the picture."

I the Southern California Edison company will sell to Santa Ana current for Santa Ana's ornamental street lights, city building and water plants at a figure less than Santa Ana can produce its own current, Santa Ana will not install a plant for generating electricity.

The city trustees have agreed. This pledge was given recently by the city trustees of Santa Ana to the Edison company.

"Vote these bonds," urged Attorney Clyde Bishop, speaking for the city council at the mass meeting of citizens held at the city hall last night for the discussion of the seven proposed bond issues to be voted upon in Santa Ana April 4, "and then say to Mr. Edison Company, 'Just so long as you treat the city of Santa Ana fairly, just so long as you furnish us current for ornamental street lights, city buildings and city power at a price that is less than we can produce it for, this proposed city plant will never be built.'"

Conference Closed.

That the city trustees had held a recent conference with officials of the Edison company and had given a pledge as outlined by Bishop, was disclosed last night.

This disclosure is considered by far the most important development of last evening's meeting.

If there were present citizens who had come for the purpose of debating the advisability of establishing a city electric plant, they had nothing to say. The subject that had loomed as likely to bring forth animated discussion was passed over almost in silence following Bishop's statement.

"It is proposed," he said, "to vote $75,000 for the purpose of installing a plant to make electricity for ornamental street lights, for public buildings owned by the city and for power for the city's pumping plants. This city does not intend to go into the business of selling electricity.

"It is proposed to utilize the city water works building and help to operate this plant. Walter Wray, city superintendent of the water works, says that he can put electricity on the switchboard for less than two cents a kilowatt, which is considerably less than this city is now paying the Edison company.

Tells Ornamental Lights.

"We have fine ornamental lights on Main street. There are other streets, including Broadway and West Fifth, upon which it is desired to install ornamental lights. The city trustees have had to tell them that our income is such that we cannot pay the bill for additional ornamental lights.

"Recently, at a conference, the Edison company asked the city trustees to withdraw the proposal for these $75,000 bonds. It was then so late in the proceedings that I would not consent to withdrawing that proposal for fear it would jeopardize the legality of all of the other proposals. It was then agreed by the city council that the $75,000 proposal should remain on the ballot, and that, if it is carried, before the proposed plant is installed the Edison company should have the opportunity to beat us on our price. That is, the Edison company will have an opportunity to contract with the city for furnishing this very current we propose to generate. If the Edison company names

Bond Issue Meeting Is Attended by 150 Santa Ana Citizens

No less than 150 citizens, nearly all men, attended the mass meeting held at the city hall here last night.

This meeting was called by the city trustees in order that there might be a full explanation on the part of the city authorities for the reasons for calling for seven bond issues to be voted upon April 4.

Attorney Clyde Bishop was spokesman for the trustees, all of whom were present. Mayor J. G. Mitchell presided.

Opportunity was given to ask questions and make comment concerning the propositions.

a price under what our electrical engineer or engineers at that time say we can manufacture it for, this money will never be spent.

"All the cost of this election has been paid. It will not cost this city one cent more to vote these bonds. Once we vote these bonds, we can talk turkey to the Edison company and see to it that it does treat this city fairly."

Asks Questions.

"If the city can make money furnishing 'juice' for itself, why not for the entire city?" asked R. J. Thompson, former city trustee.

"We must creep before we can walk," said Bishop. "We are proposing to furnish juice for equipment that the city owns. The Edison company owns all the rest of the equipment for distributing light in this city. The city owns the distributing system for the North Main street ornamental lights."

"Will it pay to buy juice wholesale and distribute it?" asked W. L. Grubb, former city trustee.

"I don't know," said Bishop. "That is a matter that is out of my line. I do know that Newport and Huntington Beach own their distributing systems for gas and are satisfied with their operation."

EXPLAINS SEWER BONDS ITEMS ON BALLOT

Attorney Clyde Bishop at the mass meeting at the city hall last night pointed out that there are two sewer propositions on the ballot, one for $172,000 to cover Santa Ana's share of the cost of the work that is to be done jointly with Anaheim, the other for $149,000 to cover cost of two main lines for Santa Ana's sole use in getting sewage out of the city and to the joint property.

"One of these propositions is of no value without the other," said Bishop. "If you vote for one, vote for both, or if you vote against one vote against both."

Here are some of the salient points brought out by Bishop:

Here's Brief Outline

Anaheim and Santa Ana will jointly establish a 60-acre treatment plant on the west side of the Santa Ana river south of the Talbert-Greenwood road. Jointly they will get a 30-foot right of way from that point into the ocean, and will jointly build an outfall with a capacity of 1000 miner's inches, capable of meeting the needs of 100,000 people. The treatment plant, under the orders of the state board of health, is absolutely necessary so that the sewage may be dumped into the ocean. The plant will produce some

MRS. GRUBB HITS VITAL NEED FOR PROPOSAL FOR PARK BONDS

"I wouldn't think of asking people to vote $10,000 to put to the uses enumerated on the ballot and I will not vote for the issue myself. It was not the idea of the members of the park board to vote bonds for the purposes stated. I feel that the chairman of the board has lived close to the park for so long that his vision has become obscured to the big things we had hoped for."

Mrs. W. L. Grubb, secretary of the park board, made this statement at the mass meeting last night at the city hall, following a query from E. E. Cooley as to who threw the "monkey wrench" into the machinery that resulted in the enumeration on the ballot of the improvements to be made under the issue.

Shows Written List

Clyde Bishop, special city counsel, presented a written list of the improvements as handed to him by Mayor John G. Mitchell. The list was signed by George W. Minter, chairman of the board. The attorney included the list in preparation of the ballot.

The ballot proposes $10,000 "with which to pay the cost of construction of ornamental lights, underground sprinkling system, cement walks, fountain, pergola and tool house in Birch park."

"At the meeting of the board November 29, 1921, it was voted to ask the council to submit an issue of $15,000 to be applied to general park uses," said Mrs. Grubb. "The first and most important of all the projects was the employment of a landscape architect. We had hoped to develop plans to which we might work and to which succeeding boards might direct their efforts in the interest of a more beautiful park."

Cites Decisions

"At that meeting three definite things were decided upon to be provided for by a bond issue. First, to establish an ornamental light system; second, an underground sprinkling system, and, third, a decent, sanitary comfort station, to take the place of the sin and disgrace now there. We did not specify that the station should be underground, but that, if possible, it should be placed underground. We talked of the other improvements. Our chairman, after a conference with the council, asked that we cut the amount to $10,000, and we agreed. We did not specify the items on the ballot as they appear on the ballot. We did not ask for cement walks nor a tool house. Certainly we do not want cement walks in the park."

Mrs. Grubb said she had asked Minter how the ballot came to be worded as it is, and he said that the city council had asked for the information in a hurry, and he had jotted down the items from memory.

Two residents near the park declared the present toilets are a public nuisance, a gathering place for rowdiness. Bishop said that evidently additional police protection is needed.

This closed the discussion concerning the park.

EXPLODING STILL SETS HOUSE AFIRE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—Firemen answering an alarm at Twenty-first and Sanchez streets yesterday afternoon found smoke issuing from the home of Newton Lindquist on the southeast corner, and on further investigation found that the explosion of a private whisky still in the attic had started the fire.

Police Corporal Fred Sutman and Policeman Leo McAllister were summoned and learned that Lindquist had been painfully burned on the hands and face in a desperate effort to extinguish the blaze. They took him to the Mission Emergency hospital and later placed him under arrest for the prohibition authorities.

Later Elton McMahon, prohibition officer, confiscated the remnants of the still and four barrels of moonshine.

Your Royal Electric Suction Cleaner Is Awaiting You At Granger's

Don't forget. Call 1431 and ask for the Royal Man. He'll be glad to call and show you how easily the Royal works.

It is the powerful, irresistible suction of the Royal Electric Cleaner that draws the very worst dirt from your rugs—deep embedded dirt that ordinary cleaners scarcely stir.

Cleans by Air—Alone!

The Secret Is In the Suction

Suction is the basis of all electrical cleaners, but many have revolving brushes, paddles and beaters of various kinds. Extra appliances sap the power of the motor and lessen the suction, rendering the most important part of your cleaner less efficient.

In the Royal no power is diverted into other channels. It is concentrated upon suction, so getting every bit of the dirt from the floor or rug.

This suction actually increases with use. It is so uniform and so powerful no dirt can resist its pull.

There is nothing complicated about a Royal. Made of virtually all metal, yet so light that it will not tire you. A pound and a half of pressure sends it about its duties.

Let the Granger Royal Man Show You—Today!

Our Royal Man is ready to show you the superiority of this machine over all others. He will be glad to clean a rug for you free of charge in your own home. Phone for the Royal Man at the

G. A. R. MEETING GOES TO BEACH CITY AGAIN

(Special to The Register) HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 29.—Arrangements for the annual G. A. R. encampment to be held here between August 15 and 25 were under way in Huntington Beach today, following definite selection of the city as the scene for the gathering by a special committee in session at the library yesterday.

Approximately forty members of the Southern California Veterans association were present. A committee composed of A. H. Thomas of Huntington Beach, Ed Seymour of Huntington Beach, V. Eiser of Los Angeles, O. V. Knowlton of Fullerton and O. H. Maryatt of Santa Ana was appointed to investigate and arrange various plans for the encampment, which, it was stated, would attract 3000 Civil War veterans and members of their families to Huntington Beach.

After the meeting, members of the association adjourned to the First Christian church, where members of the Women's Relief corps served dinner.

M. A. McGeary, representing the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce, assured the veterans that his body would co-operate in any way with encampment plans and that an effort would be made to have the new city auditorium, to be erected here, completed in time for the big gathering.

The 1922 encampment of the G. A. R. will be the thirty-fifth and it will be the sixteenth time that it has been held at Huntington Beach.

The damage award was allowed for personal injuries received by Mrs. Newton and for damages to the Newton car in a collision with a car driven by Cox.

LYNCH THREATS MARK HUNT FOR MEXICANS

(United Press Licensed Wire) ONTARIO, Cal., March 29.—With threats of lynching everywhere, armed posses of citizens were today running a race with deputy sheriffs in a hunt for two Mexicans alleged to have brutally attacked 17-year-old Edith Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hall, of this city.

The girl is said to be in serious condition. She is in the care of Dr. S. A. Craig.

According to detectives, the attack occurred when Miss Hall returned home from a shopping trip and found two Mexicans robbing her home. Before she could scream they bound and gagged her, and allegedly subjected her to brutal treatment.

UNIVERSITY GIRLS' GLEE CLUB PRAISED

That the work of the girls' glee club of Redlands university, which will give a concert at the First Baptist church tomorrow night, is of high order, is evidenced by the strong recommendations which accompany their Santa Ana visit.

According to numerous newspaper accounts and statements from prominent musicians, the Redlands artists are excellent in every respect. The club consists of twenty picked voices, two readers, a violinist and a pianist.

There will be no admission charged at the entertainment, but an offering will be taken to defray expenses.

NO DAMAGE REPORTED AS 2 AUTOS COLLIDE

No damage was reported today from a collision at Fifth and Broadway between cars driven by W. L. Brown and N. Herzog. According to Brown's report at police headquarters, he was driving along Broadway and was crossing the Fifth street intersection when Herzog traveling along Fifth, attempted to cross ahead of him. The collision took place late yesterday.

PREDICTS 1000 BIBLE CLASS MEMBERSHIP

A membership of 1000 for the Men's Downtown Bible class, which meets every Sunday morning at the West End theater, is the vision of A. W. Gerrard, as expressed last night at the class dinner held in the basement of the First Christian church.

Increased interest in the class as the result of the recent contest with Fullerton was reflected by the fact that 120 men were present. The tables were attractively decorated with iris and fern. The women of the church served a bountiful and pleasing menu.

W. B. Williams, cashier of the First National bank, toastmaster, spoke enthusiastically of the size and representative character of the class.

Membership Varied
"It has many of the best men of the city as members," Williams said. "There are doctors, lawyers, merchants, bankers and realtors among the membership, all needing and benefitting by the class."

The program was brightened by anecdotes and jokes, illustrating or pointing out morals or conclusions desired.

Gerrard presented his vision of 1,000 members in speaking on the subject of "What Lies Ahead."

"The class should do much in building humanity and good citizenship," he said. "Active and worthwhile membership calls for sacrifice, especially on Sunday mornings when one desires to take trips to the mountains or beaches."

His vision covered help to the needy, influence in politics, and the church strengthened and made more effective through the good work of the class.

Koepsel Speaks

Major A. E. Koepsel, of the California National Guard, made the main address of the evening. He spoke of the army, past and present. He said the national guard with the citizen soldiery should be the first line of defense. Koepsel declared that it had been proven that the best men physically and morally make the best soldiers.

A male quartette composed of C. D. Gallien, E. J. Hummel, E. J. Thompson and Gilmore Ward sang "Absent" and "Take Me Home."

The Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the church, spoke upon the work and progress of the class in promoting acquaintance, good fellowship, co-operation, civic righteousness and a good moral and spiritual atmosphere.

A. F. Zaiser, assistant cashier of the First National bank, and J. M. Backs, county clerk, briefly expressed appreciation of the class, its work and spirit.

PRAISES LINCOLN IN STIRRING TALK HERE

Declaring that the United States government could scrap every battleship, cannon and war implement in its possession without fear of being molested by other nations, if all persons endeavored to live as Abraham Lincoln did, the Rev. "Bob" Shuler, pastor of the Trinity Methodist church in Los Angeles, last night delivered a stirring address to the Brotherhood of the First Methodist church here.

"Lincoln had a heart large enough to hold his brain," the Rev. Mr. Shuler said. "We can't educate men of his type in our schools. It has come from the home and from mother love. If we turned to his kind of standards, there would not be need for fear for the future of our citizenship."

DEFENDANT IN OUSTER SUIT EXPLAINS CASE

In connection with a suit brought by Walter L. Moore, owner of the building at 222 West Fourth street, now occupied by the Green-Marshall Paint company, R. F. Canterbury, manager, stated today that the bare legal facts set forth in the complaint might lead to the assumption that the paint company were insolvent. This, Canterbury stated, is far from the case. He said that the company is entirely able to pay its rentals and that suit, in which Moore seeks damages and restitution of the premises, was caused through a misunderstanding as to the terms of a lease. The Long Beach Paper and Paint company, of Long Beach, co-defendant in the action, sub-let the building to the present occupants.

BEACH PHONE COMPANY MAKES $3933 PROFIT

The Huntington Beach Telephone company, operating at Huntington Beach, has reported to the railroad commission for the year 1921 that its operating revenue was $15,964.47; that its operating expenses were $12,044.52, giving a net operating revenue of $3,959.95. Interest, rent, taxes and other deductions totaled $369.94. The net corporate income for the year was $3,590.01. The surplus at the beginning of the year amounted to $343.24. The accumulated surplus at the end of the year amounted to $3,933.25.

FORCED LANDING IMPERILS 2 IN PLANE

SALINAS, March 9.—Jack O'Brien, clerk of this city, and Bob Duke, San Francisco aviator, narrowly escaped death when they were compelled to make a forced landing near Hollister this morning. What every mother should know—

THE one subject nearest a mother's heart is the welfare of her children. It is during childhood that their health is most important.

Weak, under-nourished children seldom develop into vigorous, healthy men and women. Malnutrition produces anemic constitutions, liable to many diseases. Food is the most important factor in the development of children.

An interesting fact to every mother in America is this: Grape-Nuts, served with milk or cream, is a complete food.

Grape-Nuts is the wholesome, delicious cereal made of whole wheat flour and malted barley. It is rich in nutritive mineral salts that supply strength and nourishment to the growing body tissues. Your children will thrive on it.

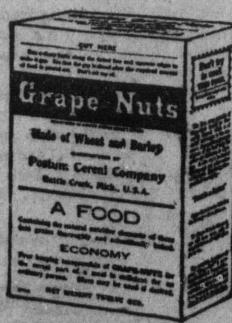

Begin today to make Grape-Nuts, with milk or cream, the regular breakfast dish—not only for the children, but for you and the others as well.

Your grocer sells Grape-Nuts, the same delicious Grape-Nuts that is served in the leading hotels and restaurants of America.

The cost of Grape-Nuts is little—because of the large number of dishes you can serve from one package.

BIG DRIVE FOR BEAN GROWERS
STARTS HERE
NEXT WEEKRecent Move In Greenville and Smeltzer Adds 1000 Acres to Association

ANTICIPATE BIG SUCCESS

Fields Now Dry Enough for Work With Prospects of May Planting Good

In a renewal of a campaign for members in the California Lima Bean Growers' association, to be started next week, Orange county growers are anticipating a repetition of the success in a recent drive, when a gain of more than 1000 acres was made in Greenville and Smeltzer districts.

Inspector G. L. Davis, representative of the association, assisted by local committees, made a tour of the bean growing districts of the county recently, with the aforementioned results.

Similar success was reported in Ventura county, where Davis went after leaving here.

Weather Held Ideal

On the Orange county committee were F. D. Plavan, H. L. Wakeham, William Armstrong and Secretary H. T. Dunning of the Smeltzer association.

"Weather conditions are ideal for bean growers," W. C. Jerome said today. "The fields have dried sufficiently to permit work, and all preparations for the planting in May are progressing well."

"We were much gratified at the excellent results of the campaign which followed the mass meeting, held March 13," Jerome continued. "The enthusiasm and interest evinced by the growers in this section indicate the success of the association."

Predicts Success

"Although I have no definite means of knowing, I predict success for the committee when the drive is renewed next week."

On the occasion of the March meeting, when Harry Maddox, state market director, and R. L. Churchill, secretary manager of the association, were present, local bankers and others interested in the welfare of the bean growing industry of Orange county expressed themselves as favoring a "revival" and the subsequent campaign was a result of action taken by the seventy-five growers present at that time.

MEXICAN IN KITCHEN
SCARES LOCAL WOMAN

Startled by the sight of a Mexican, whom she said she saw standing in her kitchen as she was returning home in the evening after a brief absence, Mrs. C. McCammon, 1067 West First street, changed her mind about entering the house. She summoned the police instead, according to a report at police headquarters today.

City Motorcycle Officer Frank Stewart made a hurry-up run to the McCammon home, but found that the Mexican had made his disappearance. Nothing had been disturbed in the house, an inspection showed.

PAYS TRAFFIC FINE

B. Walker had paid today a fine of $5 for parking his car more than two hours in the restricted district of the city. He appeared late yesterday before City Recorder W. F. Heathman. A. C. Hagill, appearing on the same charge, was discharged without penalty.

We are showing at our little shop at 315 W. 4th St., new and novel designs in beads in colorings that will give the really smart touch to the spring toilette, and so reasonably priced that you will feel that you must have a string for every costume.—The Goff Gift and Art Shop.

Citrus Exchange Here Has Model In Far Away South Africa

Citrus growers in the county today were interested in the publication of reports concerning a new organization, indicative of the spread of the industry.

According to dispatches, a citrus growers' exchange has been formed at Johannesburg, South Africa. The association has been modeled after the California Fruit Growers' exchange and has its board of directors, branches and packing houses.

The citrus industry has proved quite successful in certain parts of South Africa and is said to be increasing in its scope of work.

MOTORIST, 77, DRIVES
AUTO 40 MILES PER HOUR; HE'S $10 LESS RICH

W. W. McFaw, 77, of Eagle Rock, had the nerve to send his car over the El Toro boulevard at a rate of 40 miles an hour, much to the amazement of the county speed cops, but it failed him utterly when he was summoned to appear before Justice J. B. Cox, the "terror" of offending motorists.

McFaw's ten dollars reposed today in Justice Cox's safe, while their former owner was much surprised and pleasantly relieved at the mild reception he received in court.

"I was actually in fear and trembling on my way down here," he confessed to the magistrate. "I'd heard so much about what a fright you were."

"They've given me a hard name that I don't deserve," Justice Cox answered apologetically. "I don't treat them as rough as some people think. I don't know how I got such a bad reputation unless it's because I used to live down in Arkansas."

Then the magistrate changed the subject.

"I've got a 62-mile coming in here in a day or two," he remarked idly. "Wonder if he'll bring his towel and soap along."

MILK USERS
URGED TO KNOW
CARE OF COWS

Every person who consumes milk should know the source of the supply and should keep posted on the condition of the cows.

That was the warning issued today by Floyd Scott, assistant farm adviser.

"Tuberculosis in livestock must be guarded against when selling raw milk," Scott said. "Most consumers know that milk comes from cows but that about lets them out. They care little about the source of the supply or the health of the animals."

"It is very important that such information is at hand and unless proper certificates or permits can be presented, owners of infected cows should be reported and prosecuted."

"Fortunately, the larger dairies ask to be carefully guarded by state inspectors and likewise the creameries who handle the raw product, but because of the many small distributors and especially the 'family cow' type, rigid inspection is hard to maintain. However, these inspectors and the operators of milk plants, dairies and creameries, cannot hope to eradicate all the diseased animals if unscrupulous cow owners and uninterested consumers do not take a decided stand against unclean, unwholesome milk from unhealthy cows."

The dairy laws of California govern the situation and the necessary steps for the testing of cows for tuberculosis and other diseases are very simple. Local veterinaries of good repute can be deputized for this work or application may be presented to the State Department of Agriculture. This can be handled through Farm advisors offices or made direct to State Department office at 1023 Pacific Finance building, Los Angeles.

PORTLAND GUARANTEE
FOR OPERA EXCEEDED

PORTLAND, Ore., March 29.—Signers of the guarantee of $72,000 for the season of grand opera by the Chicago grand opera company, which closed its engagement here will not be called upon for any money, as receipts of the engagement exceeded the amount guaranteed, according to a treasurer's statement issued prior to the closing performance. The guarantors were business men of the city.

BABY CHICKENS
REQUIRE CARE FOR SUCCESSAssistant Farm Advisor In Article Gives Valuable Advice to FanciersBy FLOYD SCOTT
(Assistant Farm Advisor)

Give the chick a fair start during the first few weeks.

Careful watching over the baby chicks is just as important as careful feeding. Many poultrymen, and especially the beginners, are often inclined to depend too much on luck, chance of a baby chick's ability to withstand anything. The carefully constructed house and the proven brooder aid very materially in keeping mortality percentage low, but chicks need attention.

Keep brooder house light so that chicks do not learn bad habits, such as picking toes.

Give chicks free run of small yards at first so they will be sure to get back to brooder from time to time.

Cold, damp days are not ideal days for little chicks to be running around out of doors. Sunny days are just as bad if the little fellows are not watched late in the afternoon. Bright days make them frisky but the reaction later in the day is disastrous.

Segregate the weak from the strong after the first few days. In doing so, however, do not neglect the weak ones. They need the most attention. If chicks have to be mixed, be sure to toe punch the ones of known breeding for later matings.

As soon as little cockerels can be distinguished, segregate them from pullets and crowd them with feed for future broilers. A feed with high protein and fat content have proven very advantageous.

In watching chicks do not overlook the watching of drinking fountains and always have fresh water at least twice a day.

Keep the brooder house CLEAN and sanitary.

Regulate heat in the brooder house to conform with the strength and vitality of birds.

Baby chicks are subject to disease, and complete control can only be obtained by consistently watching and studying them.

Cleanliness of the house and runs is absolutely necessary and guarding against the bringing in of diseases by visitors is always advisable.

Remember that the pullet chicks are the future egg producers and their early care determine to a large extent their later possibilities.

Too many farmers still pursue the old-fashioned policy of breeding from the whole flock of poultry. It is far better to have just one or two small pens of your choicest fowls from which to set eggs and hatch chicks. Thus your standard of quality will show improvement from year to year.

The various brands of prepared chick feed are good and economical to use. They save time, make stronger chicks, and do away with the uncertainty of mixing a correct ration at home.

Scatter air-slacked lime freely about the houses and yards; it will go a long way toward preventing disease.

Now that warm weather is coming on, gape worms will soon put in an appearance in certain localities. They can often be prevented by putting a few drops of turpentine in each quart of water—and scattering air-slacked lime about the coops and runs.

It is always easier and better to prevent sickness by proper care and timely forethought than by trying to dope and doctor after it is too late.

Don't relax! The fowls need proper attention just the same in the pleasant weather of spring time as they did in the more rigorous winter weather now past.

Co-operative Buying of Poultry Feed Is Live
Topic at Costa Mesa

Co-operative buying of poultry feed is a live topic of discussion among poultry men at Costa Mesa, it was stated today.

R. D. Flaherty, secretary-manager of the Orange county farm bureau, will tell the chicken raisers and farmers of Costa Mesa at a meeting in the school house there at 7:30 o'clock this evening how to pool their interests in purchasing feed.

It is expected that action will be taken toward ordering feed in large quantities, a plan that has been adopted with success in other farm centers.

INSPECTOR HERE FOR VALENCIA
SHIPMENTS

Glen Wiley, fruit and vegetable inspector of the state department of agriculture, was registered at St. Ann's Inn today and will remain here during the Valencia orange shipping season. The inspector was here during the period of the shipment of navel and has now returned for the Valencia season. He may be reached through St. Ann's Inn before 7:30 a. m. or after 6 p. m., or the office of the county horticultural commissioner, according to addresses reaching The Register today.

Wiley returns to the county with greater authority than he had on his previous stay. He is here to inspect fruit as to condition with reference to the late freeze and will inspect carload lots upon request of growers or shippers at $5 a car or $250 for half a car or less.

A certificate issued by Wiley eliminates further investigation by the bureau of chemistry of the United States department of agriculture at the point of destination. Heretofore his inspection has not carried this assurance.

Inspection is also made by the county horticultural commissioner, the office passing only on the point as to whether the fruit is damaged 15 per cent. The inspector from the bureau of chemistry of the United States department of agriculture if he has reason to believe that shipped fruit is close to the damaged limit of 15 per cent.

F. W. Read, of Sacramento, chief of the bureau of standardization of the state department, has issued a statement in which he says that the chief of the bureau of chemistry, Washington, D. C., has advised that the "bureau believes that frozen oranges in California have now reached the state of evaporation, where little further change will occur in transit and that it is now safe to place chick reliance upon inspection at point of shipment. This will, in large measure, obviate loss to shippers from delay incident to inspection at destination and will effect substantial economies in our operations."

The fee collected for inspection does not go to the inspector, but is paid to the state department.

S. F. MEN INCORPORATE
$350,000 FRUIT FIRM

SACRAMENTO, March 29.—Considerable interest among local fruit shippers and packers was aroused today by the filing of articles of incorporation in the offices of Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan by the Sunnycal Packing corporation, a firm capitalized at $350,000.

The following Sacramento men are named directors: S. E. Sheets, M. M. Dempsey, M. M. Otto, C. A. Murphy and A. D. Schaffer.

Considered at Brown's Ranch Saturday

"Problems in Migratory Beekeeping" will be the subject of an address by William Atchley, of Oakland, at the beekeepers' field day scheduled for next Saturday at the George Brown ranch, corner of Mitchell and Browning avenues, Tustin. The affair has been postponed twice.

Atchley is a prominent beekeeper in Oakland, and is said to be well acquainted with the problems of the industry.

In the morning Ralph Benton, of Chaffee junior college, with about thirty students, will give demonstrations in beekeeping methods.

County Bee Inspector J. E. Pleasant will talk on "Disease and Its Control."

Election of officers will take place in the afternoon.

The men will bring basket lunches, but the farm bureau will serve coffee at noon.

GOOD BEET CROP
DESPITE RAINS
IS PREDICTED

Acres that have been planted to beets will produce heavy crops this season, it was declared today by a man in a position to speak with authority on the subject. He declared that the moisture in the land is sufficient to carry the beets through to maturity, and to assure a heavy yield.

It was declared that the acreage for the factory at Huntington Beach had been cut fifty per cent by reason of the heavy rains in January and February. It is estimated that 3,000 acres in the Talbert district that was flooded during the heavy rains will be lost to the factory. Very little, if any, of the land will produce beets for the coming season, it was stated.

Late rains also interfered with planting. It was said that contracts were still being made with the factory and that it was possible that some acreage would be planted in the next few weeks.

Harvesting of the crop will start in the latter part of August, it was declared today.

PUSSYFOOT JOHNSON

COMEDY CHARACTER
IN "TRUTH" IS PLAYED
BY WYOMING WOMAN

Mrs. Ella Williams Scott, who plays the amusing character lead, "Mrs. Crespiigny," in the Community Players' production, "The Truth."

Introducing Mrs. Crespiigny—

She whose ancestors, as she herself would tell you, "Were one of them early high-toned families who came over from Amsterdam in The Mayflower."

And Mrs. Crespiigny, diverting in her statements and mannerisms, is the character lead in the Clyde Fitch comedy, "The Truth," offered by the Community Players at the high school auditorium tomorrow night and Friday night.

In this comedy character, the Players declare they have a genuine find in Ella Williams Scott, who, with her husband, A. F. Scott, came from Wyoming only a few months ago to live in Santa Ana.

Mrs. Scott has had much experience in amateur dramatics, the number of plays in which she has taken leading roles giving her almost the standing of a professional. These are of a widely varying nature and include "The Man From Home," "The Sunken Bell," "Believe Me, Xantippe," "The Pied Piper," "Jeanne d'Arc," "Ibsen's 'Ghosts,'" "Israel Zangwill's 'Melting Pot'" and, not to neglect the Bard of Avon, "The Merchant of Venice."

Such a diversified list would indicate her own versatility and that she is excellent in character work will be conceded by all who see her in "The Truth," is the declaration of Ernest Crozier Phillips, Community Players' director.

Crop Situations Here

Shipments of citrus fruits from 45,006 acres in Orange county for the season of 1920-21 totalled 5,787,577 boxes, or approximately 15,500 carloads, according to a report prepared under the direction of Earl Morris, county horticultural commissioner, from data gathered by M. J. Pickering, inspector.

Anaheim district leads in shipments with 1,171,429 boxes and Fullerton is second, with 1,004,254. The Orange district is third, with a total of $40,917.

The report is an exhaustive one and thoroughly goes into the shipments and acreage for the county. The information was gained from packing house records, in some instances the acreage being estimated, as books did not disclose the exact acreage covered by the various packing houses.

The production and acreage in navel, valencias and lemons are given as follows:

Gives Navel Figures

Twenty-five houses reported shipments of 359,980 boxes, or 898 cars of approximately 400 boxes each. As nearly as could be determined, there are 1402 bearing and 15 non-bearing acres of navels in the county. The tendency is away from navels. Considering the great decrease in production which must inevitably follow as a result of the January freeze of 1922, in the principal navel growing regions in other counties, a navel orchard in Orange county may be considered a very desirable property.

As to Valencia

Thirty-one packing houses reported shipments of 4,521,202 packed boxes or 11,270 cars. Bearing acreage reported was 32,918 and non-bearing 2,100 acres. The combined acreage of navels and valencias, both bearing and non-bearing, is 36,435 acres. The United States census figures, which were obtained in the spring of 1920, and therefore give the acreage of 1919, are as follows:

Non-bearing trees, 728,140; bearing trees, 1,434,078 or twice as many bearing as non-bearing trees. Taking 75 trees per acre (if planted 24 feet square there would be 75 to an acre) there would be according to the government figures, non-bearing, 9,708 acres and bearing 19,121 or a total of

BLAME HIGH RATES FOR EMPTY HOTELS

PARIS, March 29.—The Azur Coast season is nearly over. With the first warm breath of spring the winter residents, like the birds, return to their homes and to Paris, perhaps less sunny but certainly less expensive.

The moment is, therefore, arrived when we can sum up the "season." In the first place, it may be frankly acknowledged that, despite the spurt gained from the Lloyd George-Briand meeting at Cannes, the results have been unfavorable. It is better to state the truth now so that the same mistakes may not be made next winter.

Underneath all there is the exaggeration of prices in the great hotels. Even the newly-rich, after their first income tax form, have refused to submit to a systematic plucking.

People have, above all, frequented the hotels of second order, where prices are less and the service as good.

At Cannes, at Nice, at Mentone, at Monte Carlo, the palatial hotels have remained almost empty throughout the season and the Azur Coast has thus lost many millions.

The Carnival at Nice, certainly, brought many visitors to that place. But they stayed only a few days, many only overnight, whereas had the charges been more reasonable they would have stayed for the season. Elsewhere the season has been dead.

No longer is one jostled when walking on the Croisette at Cannes, or the Promenade des Anglais at Nice, and the theaters in the casinos play often to empty benches.

The association of Eugene Cornuchet, baccarat king, and Paul Poirer, lordly fantasist, has failed to inject the needed virus into the season at Cannes. Their grandiloquent fetes at the Casino have merely been a means of adding to other expenditures.

It is even stated that Cornuchet, disgusted, has decided not to come to the Riviera next winter.

But there is another cause for the malady, which has apparently attacked the famous coast in a vital spot. This is the campaign, paid for by nobody knows whom, against the gambling.

In all the great cities of the south of France the walls are covered with posters attacking roulette, and passers-by are handed circulars warning them that baccarat means ruin.

Who is back of this campaign? Why do the storekeepers in Cannes, in Nice, in Mentone, in Marseilles, why do they hand out with everything they sell a pamphlet attacking the casinos?

Is it that the tradespeople have come to the conclusion that the real attraction of the Riviera should be the climate and the scenery—and not the roulette wheel and the chemin-de-fer table?

Is it that they are at last disillusioned in believing that gambling brings a crowd? Is it that they are at last convinced that the man who gambles has no other use for his money—which when lost is not spent by the casino owners on the Riviera, but in Paris?

Whatever the answers be, the fact remains. A campaign which has been already the most serious consequence has been started against the legalized gambling halls of the most lovely coast in the world.

And another fact, too—that the owners of the casinos are also largely owners of the hotels. If you do not lose your money to them at the tables they take it from you by excessive and wholly unjustifiable bills at the hotels.

It is time for a new policy on the Riviera. Bring people there—yes; but don't let it be said abroad that one cannot return from Nice or Cannes or Monte Carlo except with empty pockets!

DOCKING SPACE TO BE MUCH INCREASED

LOS ANGELES, March 29.—The city's plans for building 3200 feet of wharves on the Terminal Island water front facing the main channel at San Pedro harbor, are to be revised as the result of a conference held between the board of harbor commissioners and representatives of the Union Pacific system, which now owns and operates the Salt Lake lines. The new plan proposed is to build four slips at right angles to the channel. Each of these is to be 1100 feet long, and will provide on the two sides and at the ends, 2900 feet of docking space, or a grand total of 11,600 feet of wharf room, instead of the 3200 feet which would be obtained were the original plans of building docks parallel to the main channel adhered to.

The city has now in the treasury $2,100,000 to carry out the Terminal Island improvements to be made under its agreement with the Salt Lake road by which that company deeded the city land facing the main channel on condition that the city improve it with wharves, a roadway connecting them and a drawbridge over Long Beach channel.

Present at the conference were President John D. Fredericks of the chamber of Commerce, who said that the directors of the chamber had approved the change in plans for the improvement of the Terminal Island water front and Marius Le Brabant, assistant traffic manager, Chief Counsel A. S. Halsted and J. L. Haugh, assistant to President Carl R. Gray of the railroad company is prepared to deed free to the city the necessary additional land required if the slip plan is adopted.

The board of harbor commissioners, after discussing the matter thoroughly, agree to the change of plans will adopt a resolution to that effect at the meeting this morning, and instruct Harbor Engineer Vincent to prepare new plans for the Terminal Island docks, which will be built as rapidly as the main channel is widened and dredged by the Federal government. This work is now under way.

Assistant City Attorney Leach, legal adviser to the harbor board, who took part in yesterday's conference, said that the new plan is most advantageous to the city, as it will permit of a more intensive development of the Terminal Island water front, made possible only by the Union Pacific railroad giving the city free at least $1,000,000 worth of its land. The space on the water front owned by the city under the Salt Lake agreement, will permit four slips to be built, and the bond money now in the city treasury will provide funds for the first of these, with wharves on two sides and at the end, and still leave room for three additional slips. The Union Pacific had agreed to deed free to the city the additional land necessary for the other slips as soon as bond money has been voted to build them.

BRITISH CRUISER VISITS CAPTAIN COOK'S GRAVE

HONOLULU, T. H., March 29.—The British cruiser Calcutta received to Honolulu after visiting several American and British island possessions in the South seas. During the ship's tour the captain and officers placed a wreath on the monument to Captain Cook, which stands near the spot where he met his death at the hands of the natives on the shores of Kenelakea bay, island of Hawaii. The Calcutta will sail for San Francisco in a few days.

23,829 acres. Against this, there is a total of 36,436 acres, a part of which, it is admitted, is based on estimates, but estimates backed up by production of fruit. Undoubtedly the proportion of bearing to non-bearing acres as given by the government is more nearly correct, as few of the packing houses made any attempt to separate bearing and non-bearing acreage.

The census report gives 3,486,204 boxes of oranges harvested in 1919, or 8,715 carloads. The present report shows 4,965,988 boxes of all kinds, or 12,353 cars, an increase of nearly 50 per cent in two years. Orange county alone is producing more citrus fruit than all of Southern California produced some years back. And this present production will be increased another 50 per cent as rapidly as the trees can grow to it.

Give Lemon Figures
Of 17 houses reporting lemon shipments, the La Habra Citrus association and Central Lemon association of Villa Park each handled more than 400 cars during the season, in addition to those not packed. One house reported dumping more than 250 tons owing to poor marketing conditions.

Shipments totaled 328,453 boxes or 2,971 1-2 cars of lemons. There were 7,080 bearing and 1,975 non-bearing acres reported, or a total of 8,155 acres.

The average value of the crop f. o. b. packing house is estimated as follows: Navels and all miscellaneous varieties, $2.25 per box; Valencia, $3.50; lemons, $4.00. On this basis values are: Navels, etc., $985,023; lemons, $3,318,836; valencias, $15,824,655; total, $20,123,514.

ANNE MORGAN FIGHTS FRANCE'S DETRACTORS

CHICAGO, March 29.—Miss Anne Morgan, chairman of the executive committee of the American committee for devastated France, arrived in Chicago to institute a campaign against anti-French propaganda.

About $750,000 of a $2,000,000 fund, to be used in rebuilding towns and caring for the people remains to be collected, Miss Morgan said. She made a talk by radio phone tonight.

BOILER EXPLODES, 4 KILLED, TOWN SHAKEN

PORT HURON, Mich., March 29.—As a result of the explosion of a boiler on the ferry boat Omar D. Conger four men were killed. The entire down town district was badly shaken by the explosion, which did property damage estimated at $100,000.

The exploding boiler was hurled nearly 200 feet, smashing into a residence, but the inmates of the house escaped serious injury. All the killed were employed on the ferry boat.

SEATTLE SCRIBE SAYS TEAM WILL BE IN COAST LEAGUE RACE ALL SEASON

Outfit Looks Good on Paper and If Pitchers Deliver as Expected Indians Should Be Among Leaders; Much Depends on Big League Veterans

By LEO H. LASSEN
SPORTING EDITOR SEATTLE STAR
(Written for the Seattle Press)

SEATTLE, Wash., March 29.—The Indians will be in the Coast league, you can bank on that, but just how strong the Seattle entry really is will have to be decided when the season gets under way.

The Seattle baseball future hinges on three things—the ability of Vean Gregg, super Southpaw of baseball a few years ago, to make good in his comeback; the ability of Frank Schulte to plug up right field and the old keystone problem of the Indians.

If Gregg can hold up and pitch like he did for Portland "years and years ago" the Indians will have one of the best mound staffs in the league. Elmer Jacobs will be the premier right hander of the staff and the big boys will come close to leading the league.

Then there is the venerable Harry Gardner, who is a good pitcher in spite of his years, particularly in warm weather.

Hunky Schorr expects to have a good year, although the Southpaw has been held up considerably by illness in training camp. Young Mack is a good prospect, while Lefty Burger, Joe Finneran, Lefty Bell and Joe Dailley are all fighting for places on the staff.

Seattle has one of the best catching corps in the league in Ed Spencer, Jack Adams and Frank Tobin. The latter is the most promising young receiver in the league and has a fine chance to graduate to the majors.

Rod Murphy is a cinch to cover first base. Manager McCredie thinks so well of Tom Connolly, the former American association infielder, that he consented to let Marty Krug step away to the Chicago Cubs.

Then there's the old shortstop problem. Either Bill Stumpf or Young Provold will take care of this job. Stumpf is a much better hitter, while Provold is said to be a fair stickler and a wonderful fielder with a lot of speed.

Either Tex Wisterzel or Manuel Cueto will open the season at third with the former favored. They say Tex is showing more life this season than he has for several years. Wisterzel is steady but last fall he could not move off a dime.

Cueto will be in there some place because he can play any infield or outfield position and he has ability and pep.

Billy Lane will be in left again and Brick Eldred in center. Coast ball fans know that this pair can do.

Schulte, the old Cub slugger, will be in right field and to judge by the way he has been showing up in training camp he will do.

The team has good pitching, fine catching, a good hitting infield and a good all round outfield.

We're making no rash predictions but Walter McCredie's tribe ought to let the boys know that the Indians are in the race again this year.

FULLERTON DEFEATS POLY; POETS SWAMP HUNTINGTON BEACH

Fullerton high school baseball players defeated Santa Ana in a postponed game there yesterday afternoon, 4 to 3.

Coach Morrison's men scored all the three runs in the initial stanza. Fullerton scored one in the second and three in the sixth.

Whittier high school's baseball team yesterday defeated the Garden Grove nine, 4 to 1, in a league game at Whittier. This record establishes a new Pacific Coast record, it is believed.

Whittier 45 24 4
Garden Grove 1 4 15
Kimmell, Elliott and Newson; Morrell and Meserell.

Although Orange county schools are understood to favor the action to place Fullerton and Santa Ana high schools in a league with other city schools, considerable opposition is apparent in Los Angeles, and all concerned are awaiting a meeting of the Southern California Interscholastic association officials next Tuesday, when the matter will come up for informal discussion.

Reports that the final arrangements to place the two Orange county schools in the new league were current yesterday, but were promptly denied by Principal J. S. Malcolm of San Juan Capistrano, Orange county representative of the Interscholastic association.

"No decision has been reached," Malcolm said today. "The school boys have heard rumors, and have imagined the rest. No official action can be taken toward the formation of the new league until the first week in May. The matter will be discussed at the meeting next Tuesday, but no action can be taken at that time."

Malcolm indicated that considerable opposition would be encountered from the city schools, which resent the entrance of outside teams. They have had little real opposition for some time, and prefer to continue among themselves, it is said.

Orange county schools are understood to favor the plan. Fullerton and Santa Ana will be provided with better games, and the smaller schools will have an opportunity to strive more successfully for county honors.

Although the announcement of plans for the new league is not being made, it is understood that Santa Monica, Long Beach, Santa Ana, Fullerton, Manual Arts and several other city schools will be enrolled. San Diego will not be included since it was felt that that school is too far distant.

AMBASSADORS FIRST IN BOWLING LEAGUE

Close Contests Mark Tenth Week; Leaders Clash Next Week

The close of the tenth week in the Anaheim Bowling league finds the Little Ambassadors out in front with a percentage of .655 for nine games won and eleven lost. The second place team is the Studebakers.

The Youngbluth team was the sensation in the week's program, rolling a score of 2523 for high honors in taking two out of three from the Studebakers. The Fanning Candy company team rolled low score for the week—2156. The candy makers lost two out of three to Duntun's, and are now in a tie with the Youngbluth team for fourth place.

The big game next week will be that between the Little Ambassadors and the Studebakers.

SOUTHERN COLLEGES TO SEND TRACK MEN AGAINST BEAR TEAM

BERKELEY, Cal., March 29.—The first real intersection track meet of the coast season will be held when the University of California meets the All-Southern conference team here on April 1.

The All-Southern team consists of men who scored points of the Southern conference meet.

The colleges represented are University of Redlands, Pomona, Occidental, University of California, Southern branch, University of Southern California and California Tech.

A fishpole and other articles thrown from the car by Thompson as he passed through Trabuco canyon were picked up and turned over to Sheriff C. E. Jackson, to be used as evidence against the pair.

Both defendants pleaded guilty before U. S. District Judge Trippett a few days ago and sentence was pronounced yesterday.

According to reports from Los Angeles, it developed at the court proceedings that Atwood's wife died from grief as a result of his arrest. Her dying request, it was said, was that he marry her nurse.

Atwood secured a license to wed in this city a few weeks ago.

BEAUMONT, Tex.—Sensational fielding in the ninth inning out down a Brooklyn rally and enabled the Yanks to win, 6 to 5.

FORT WORTH, Tex.—"Running around the training camps, I'm having the time of my life. I thought I wouldn't be happy when I left the bench but I've never had such a good time," Commissioner Landis said.

PINE BLUFF, Ark.—The Boston Red Sox beat the Pirates, 6 to 2.

TAMPA, Fla.—Washington beat the Boston Braves 12 to 9.

Now Is the Time To Make Santa Ana Beautiful

Make the most of your garden this summer. Plant a tree or two. Plant flowers along the walks and borders. Decorate your porch with ornamental shrubs or potted plants. Make Santa Ana both beautiful and productive. Good health and satisfaction will follow and you'll save some money too. This page tells where you can get the things you need.

This has been the biggest planting season in our history. Our Quality Nursery Stock has gone fast.

At present we are sold out! However, we will receive a SHIPMENT OF TREES the first of April. And remember we have garden seeds in packages and clover and bluegrass seed for spring lawns.

We have fine Persimmon and Graded Walnut Trees for next year's planting.

EVENING SALUTATION

I say again, man cannot choose his duties. You may choose to forsake your duties, and choose not to have the sorrow that they bring. But you will go forth, and what will you find? Sorrow without duty; bitter herbs and no bread with them.—George Eliot.

THE JUNIOR COLLEGE DISTRICT

No one has raised a question concerning the advisability of organizing a junior college district under the new state law. No objection to the proposal has been pointed out publicly, nor, so far as we know, privately. It appears that the vote at Friday's election will be unanimous.

And so it should be.

If the junior college now in operation with the Santa Ana High School is to be continued—and it is conceded by everyone at all interested in the excellence of our school system that it should be—there is nothing left for us to do but organize a junior college district. This district will have the same boundaries as the high school district, and the college itself will continue to be conducted, as now, in the high school group of buildings.

Two distinct advantages are to be gained by organizing the junior college district. One of these is financial, the other a matter of university standing. The state offers to increase substantially the amount of state money to be used for junior college purposes. At present Santa Ana High School district draws from the state approximately $12 a year per pupil for high school and junior college attendance. Under the new district plan, the Santa Ana Junior College will draw a lump sum of $2,000 a year; and in addition about $100 per year per pupil. The attendance at this time is 145. With these figures it is easy to see that it is to the financial interest of the voters of the district to go to the polls Friday and vote for the formation of the new junior college district.

The second item of big consequence in the proposal lies in the opportunity there will be for affiliation of the junior college with the state university. The college courses and the selection of the faculty will be subject to review by university authorities. In return for this, the college will be given a standing at the university by which students taking the two years' work of the junior college in Santa Ana will be fully equipped and will be allowed to enter third year work at any college or university in California.

FOR CIVIC WELFARE

There seems to be quite an insistent and widespread demand in Santa Ana for a sort of super civic welfare committee—a committee composed of representatives, one or more, from each civic organization in the city, whose duty and prerogative it would be to recommend, counsel and advise in all matters affecting the city's welfare.

For instance, it is argued that the City Trustees cannot be expected, for the pittance they receive in the way of salaries, to give all their time to city affairs, or even to give a large enough part of their time to enable them to be fully informed or to exercise effective and adequate control in all municipal activities and private enterprises affecting the public welfare.

A case in point is the opening up of subdivisions. The Register fully agrees with many who believe that the greatest care should be exercised in the acceptance by the Trustees of maps, plats and plans for subdivisions. The interests of the city at large are always paramount to those of the land owners and the promoters of the subdivisions. The widths and grades of streets, shapes and sizes of parking places, street trees, building restrictions, public service facilities—all these matters require careful investigation and study, demanding more time than the average City Trustee can give. Also the problems presented in this respect require for their correct solution training and talent not always to be found among a restricted number of men, whether City Trustees, Chamber of Commerce members or what not.

Likewise the Chamber of Commerce, in many of the matters which come before it for consideration, would, no doubt, be glad to have the assistance of such a general and representative committee as that suggested; thus not only getting the benefit of every viewpoint, but securing the co-operation of the various other civic bodies represented by the committee.

Many well informed citizens declare that building restrictions, in both the residential and business districts, are inadequate. According to those interested in the appointment of a civic welfare committee, it would be a function of such a committee, in co-operation with the City Trustees, to outline a zone system, regulating the building of new structures to some extent. Such zoning, it is pointed out, would eliminate horse barns and similar buildings within a certain distance of the business center, and from residential sections, and would keep businesses of certain types in groups so far as possible. Under the direction of such a committee it would be required that any new business building be in keeping with the character of adjoining properties, for the sake of beauty and utility and for the protection of the man who has already erected a building of high character.

Reverting again to subdivisions for purpose of illustration, it is obvious that the Chamber of Commerce, Realty Board, Merchants and Manufacturers Association, Ebelt Society, Rotary, Kiwanis, and Lions clubs, etc., etc., have just as much interest in the way they are handled, with reference to the public welfare, as the City Trustees have; but none of these organizations has any official voice in the matter—no voice at all except reluctantly and half-heartedly by its own initiative. And while the City Trustees and Chamber of Commerce invite and welcome any and all who may appear for a hearing, the fact remains that the average citizen is disinclined to make an appearance without special invitation or as the accredited representative of some civic organization.

With or without such a super civic welfare committee as that suggested, let us all indulge in the hope and believe that the City Trustees will exercise the greatest possible care and caution in the matter of new subdivisions. With Santa Ana growing so rapidly, subdivisions are needed and welcomed by all enterprising citizens. They are enterprises that are being, will be and should be encouraged and made as easy of successful consummation as possible. But growth and expansion of the city would be attained at too great a long-run cost if the interests of subdividers should ever be permitted to override those of the community at large.

VALUABLE PAVEMENT TESTS

At Bates, Ill., there is the most interesting stretch of road pavement in this country. It is two miles long and is made up of 63 different sections. These sections represent 63 different kinds of construction, varying in material, thickness of road-bed and manner of construction. There are all the ordinary types of pavement and many others, some of plain concrete or asphalt or brick or wood, and others made in various combinations of these.

This crazy-quilt roadway is an experiment on the part of the government. It was finished last April, and ever since a corps of government engineers has been making observations on it, noting the effect of ordinary traffic, temperature changes and other factors. Soon it is to be subjected to the final test, that of very heavy traffic, with a fleet of ten-ton trucks from the War Department. These are the army trucks that destroyed so many hundred miles of paved roads during the war.

There will be perhaps half a billion dollars spent on road paving this year, and as much every year for a long time to come, and yet there is no dependable knowledge as to the most durable and economical types of construction. Here is a bit of practical research very much worth while. It may save untold millions, in every state in the Union, if the results are utilized by public officials and contractors.

CLAIMING WRANGELL ISLAND

The formal annexation of Wrangell Island to the British Empire is a reminder of how little land remains anywhere in the world unappropriated. The big powers have done a pretty complete job in the last half-century, especially Great Britain. It is surely approaching the end of the chapter when that country takes the trouble to raise its flag on a dreary oblong of frozen land in the Arctic Ocean, near the ultimate north.

Wrangell Island is not a new discovery. It has long been on the maps. An American planted the Stars and Stripes there in 1881, but the government never paid any attention to the matter. It has usually been considered a part of Siberia, but the Russians have ignored it. The only reason that Stefansson was able, on his last exploring trip, to set up a British claim, was that nobody else has ever wanted the place enough to claim it.

What the British want with the island is hard to understand. Britain is already surfeited with territory, in every climate. Possibly there is coal or iron or oil there, and some hundreds of years hence it may be made available; or the earth may swing about in a few thousand years, as geologists say it has done more than once before, and bring a temperate or tropical climate to the Arctic. Englishmen left may then want to move north.

The reason given is that Wrangell "dominates the Bering strait," whatever that may mean. It is more than 200 miles to the northwest, with the interval frozen solid most of the year, and is inhabited only by polar bears.

Perhaps that really explains the matter. There is no native population to revolt. Wrangell's loyalty can never be questioned. Those polar bears can be depended on. That must be a great comfort, in the present state of the British Empire.

City Manager Tested

Fresno Republican

The report of the city controller of Sacramento, made public this week, makes an excellent showing for the inauguration of the new city manager system. While it is true that the controller may be suspected of a friendly bias to the municipal government of which he is a part, nevertheless, as a register of progress in city administration, Sacramento's undertaking will be watched with keen interest, and such facts as those now submitted will be taken into consideration.

The comment is, naturally, entirely on financial matters. It shows for the second six months in 1921, which was the first six months of the administration of Clyde L. Seavey as city manager, a considerable reduction in total expense over the first six months of 1921. It also shows a saving of many thousands of dollars under the current estimates. It also shows a series of expenditures included in the current figures going to items of what would be called in business "capital account."

Of course a report of this kind will require checking from a number of points of view, and doubtless it will get this from critics, friendly and hostile. A city administration must be judged, just like any other, by the results it produces, and the costs. Mere niggardliness is not a virtue and it may prove at times very disastrous. And in the conduct of city affairs there are many things that should be given citizens that cannot be balanced against any money.

But the emergency factors in a city's budget are after all, usually not large and their occurrence can be discounted.

Furthermore, any city manager would have a hard time getting along merely to "save" money. Since every denial of money must be justified at the time, and the saving of money can be bragged about with effect at stated seasons only, like annual reports, human nature is going to operate both ways. We are apt to have "savings" justified and expenditures justified alike by their character. In the long run, the difference in system will show by the general results.

Sacramento is going to be a valuable addition to our laboratory study of municipal government, just as is the present administration in Fresno. Sacramento, under Seavey, so far is a straight out test of the efficiency value of the city manager system.

Of course there is also the moral side of it. Will a city manager system be effective in dealing with moral problems? Will efficiency carry with it a moral elevation in city affairs?

Bird Songsters a Boon

Pasadena Star-News

The songbird is one of the very best friends the farmer, gardener and orchardist has. The active little bunch of flesh, blood and feathers besides filling the air with liquid melody and broadcasting cheer through town and country, is the inveterate enemy of insect pests and parasites which cost husbandmen dearly by their ravages.

That the South, by permitting wholesale slaughter of songbirds, is incurring economic hurt for itself, is the assertion of T. Gilbert Pearson, president of the Associated Audubon Societies. Mr. Pearson has been in the South to organize a school campaign to arouse sentiment against the killing of songbirds. These little friends of man greatly assist in the fight against boll weevil, which brings such disastrous losses annually upon the cotton growers of Dixie. One songbird will destroy hundreds of weevils, therefore is of great economic value. Many species of songbirds in South Carolina and other cotton states have been almost exterminated. As the birds disappear, the losses to crops become greater. Hence, it is not mere sentiment that is being used to induce Southerners to protect songbirds, but good common sense and utilitarianism. These little birds literally are worth their weight in gold to the agricultural interests.

Songbirds, on the whole, are well protected here in California, thanks to activities of Audubon societies, warm friends of the little warblers. Here, as elsewhere, songbirds do far more good than harm to farms, gardens and orchards.

THE THRILL OF PERFECTION

The man who has never learned to strive—and to reach—beyond his grasp, has not known one of the greatest secrets of happy achievement.

We in this world shall never understand the full meaning of perfection. But we may all set our hands and brains and hearts to its attainment.

I believe it was Browning who said that our reach should exceed our grasp—or else what was Heaven for.

How we are thrilled at the first sensations of realization that we are on the right track and that our study and desire for mastery is beginning to bear fruit.

The artist who sees his figures and landscapes taking real form is encouraged to go deeper into his art and to study more.

If none of us could feel progress as it comes, there would be little incentive to go ahead.

It's because we get the flashes of perfection as we work for it, that we assure ourselves some day we will excel.

The child has to be taught its first lesson in conduct and in the acquiring of knowledge.

No one will ever reach perfection—but if we didn't have it to aim toward, we would never accomplish anything.

A noted writer told me the other day that he intended revising a book which he had written 30 years ago, to perfect it, from his viewpoint, so that it might stand as an expression of the best toward which he had striven as a writer during his lifetime. I admired his ambition.

To set our eyes on the goal, and work to attain it, keeps alive the two most powerful factors in success—incentive and interest.

You cannot fail in what you undertake if you daily feel the thrill that only striving for perfection can give.

AFTER THE RAIN

There's joy in the meadow,
There's laughter in the lane,
And everywhere the world is fair,
For clouds have ceased to rain.

The breeze has kissed the wild rose—
There's fragrance in its breath;
The sun now gleams upon the streams,
The glen is still as death.

The breeze now gently blowing Did once go roaring by;
And clouds so gray have fled away,
And left a brilliant sky.

Smile on when storms come raging,
(Our tears are like the rain)
For thoughts it all what'er befall
The sun shall shine again.

Time to Smile

A FARMERS' BLOC (KHEAD).
Snagsley was running for the legislature on the Republican ticket. He was campaigning in the rural districts, which comprised most of his balliwick. Mixing among the farmers he was putting up a great show of erudition on matters agricultural.

Glancing toward a waving green field in the distance, he said: "That your field over there?"
"Yes."
"My, but it does carry me back to old days on the farm. I never saw finer oats in my life!"

"So?" asked the farmer as he yawned and giddapped to his team. "I had been kiddin' myself into thinkin' that was wheat. My oats is jest peepin' through t' ground in the field right this side o' that'n."

IT WAS ENTERT.

The young wife entered the kitchen rather nervously, and after hesitating for a few seconds, said to the cook: "Oh, cook, I must really speak to you. Your master is always complaining. One day it is the soup, and the next day it is the fish, and the third day it is the fish, in fact it's always something or other."
The cook replied with feeling: "Well, mum, I'm sorry for you. It must be awful to live with a gentleman like that!"—Argonaut.

Faith Exalted in America

Anticipations of a universal religious revival under the powerful emotions of the World war failed of adequate realization in spite of superficial indications of a spiritual reawakening of Christian peoples. But if the churches in the United States lost anything in membership during the stress and oblation of the war excitement, the religious census just completed shows that it has been regained with compound interest. Statistics compiled by Dr. E. O. Watson, secretary of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, show that in the five-year period since the similar survey of 1916 there has been an increase of 4,070,345 members in all denominations.

Here is an inspiring Lenten thought. A spiritual revival has been quietly but progressively operating. From every city in the country come reports of the crowded attendance at the noon-day interdenominational service.

A total of 45,997,199 communicants are included in 235,191 congregations, a gain of 5,617 in five years. It is estimated that the aggregate religious constituency of the country, including Jews, Orthodox Greeks and Mormons, reaches the enormous total of 95,858,098.

In all this enumeration lies proof beyond cavil or question that the religious life of America flourishes with unimpeded vigor. Skeptical must stand abashed in face of the evidence that faith, the larger hope, and confident expectancy in looking to the life beyond the grave, actuate the vast majority of the American people, a fact to inspire a sublime optimism which no temporary set-back, in habit or fashion, or other circumstance of life, can shake.

Bear Stories for Bedtime

CHAPTER 306.

BILLY BEAR MISSES HIS TRAIN.
By Harvey Elliott.

The excitement was wild in the Green Forest. The team on the wagon was trying to run away from Billy Bear. The circus man and his pal were afraid they would be dumped off and killed, and Billy Bear was afraid they wouldn't. Johnny Jay and Bushy Squirrel and the rest of the Green Forest folk were afraid Billy would never get out alive.

Tommy tried to hold that team, but he might as well have been pulling on a steam engine. It was all the bounds could do to keep up. Everybody stuck in the wagon pretty well till they crossed a ditch at the corner of Farmer Smith's old orchard. Here the wagon upset, and men, camping outfit, Bear and all rolled out pell mell on the ground. The circus man landed with his head in a mud hole. Tommy Smith lighted on top of the other man and didn't get hurt.

Billy Bear was in about the most dangerous place of any, but he got off by his cage upsetting on top of the canvas tent. The grub box was smashed open, and pans, skillets, etc., were scattered in every direction.

Tommy followed his team down to the barn lot where they had run into the fence and stopped. The circus man and his pal had gotten back to their feet, glad they were living to tell the tale. But poor Billy Bear lay there in his cage just as much a prisoner as he was before.

Over in the orchard Willie Whiskers the Goat was chewing leaves when the wreck occurred. He wasn't much interested until he discovered that his friend Billy Bear was in that cage. While the circus man and his pal went down to the barn lot to clean the mud off, Willie went over to ask Billy what it was all about. They whispered something through the cage bars and the Willie Whiskers strutted off to the barn.

When Whiskers reached the barn lot the circus man had his head over the water tank washing the mud out of his hair. That Goat took aim, hit him in the seat of the pants and boosted him head first into the tank of water.

The circus man's pal got scared and started to run. Whiskers' old fighting spirit was back again. He gave his chin whiskers a jerk, and the next thing the Pal knew he was going over the rail fence into the pig pen where he narrowly escaped landing on Old Mother Pig's back.

The result of it all was that before they could get things straightened around again the afternoon train had gone.

First By Phone

On Tuesday morning, February 13, 1877, the Boston Globe congratulated its readers on presenting the first dispatch ever sent to a newspaper by a human voice over the wires by the newly invented telephone. The dispatch filled nearly three-fourths of a column, and in part read as follows:

"Salem, February 12, 10:55 p. m.—Prof. A. Graham Bell lectured on his invention at Lyceum Hall this evening. The lecture was one of course of the Essex Institute and about five hundred persons were present.... He closed his lecture by stating the practical uses to which he was confident the telephone could be applied. The lecture and experiments were an unqualified success.... This special to the Globe has been transmitted in the presence of about twenty, who have thus been witnesses to a feat never before attempted, that is, the sending of a newspaper dispatch over the space of eighteen miles by the human voice—and all this wonder accomplished in a time not much longer than would be consumed in an ordinary conversation between two people in the same room. H. M. B."

About Women

The biggest and costliest wedding cake on record was that which figured at the marriage of Princess Beatrice, youngest daughter of Queen Victoria. The exact price paid for it has never been made public, but the full-sized model, still preserved by the firm which made the cake, cost one thousand dollars.

The sun never set on the British flag, but that doesn't keep her troubles from hatching. Being fair to the drivers, we will say an auto rarely goes up on the sidewalk after its victims.

Scene, a train going to beet the band.

Engineer. Owtch wat a stummick ake! Owtch wat a pane! Owtch, how can I hold my stummick and run this locomotive both at the same time? Owtch, I cant.

Passengers. Hay, wats the matter with the train? Hay, this is too fast.

Fred Fernot. Hay, engineer, wat the hecks the matter? Is this train running away?

Engineer. Its doing whatever it wants to. I got a farsee stummick ake! I wouldnt take my hands off of my stummick for any man alive. Do you know how to steer a locomotive?

Fred Fernot. Well I never steered one but I was always handy around the house. Hay, its going faster insted of slower. I dont know how to werk it.

Passengers. Hay, this is farsee and getting farseer.

Engineer. Owtch sutch panes! If a train robber pointed his gun at me rite now and told me Handsup I wouldnt take them off of my stummick even for him.

Fred Fernot. Havent you got eny pills or anything you can take? Theres libel to be a exsistent heer.

Engineer. O yes, heres a pill. Im glad you reminded me. Ah, I feel better alreddy, wy didnt you remind me sooner?

Fred Fernot. Thats gratitude, thats is. Take your old locomotive and steer it rite.

HEALTH

SOMETHING ABOUT HOW TO KEEP WELL

DON'T HANDLE FOOD.

Few women could do their marketing without handling the foods before they buy.

That the practice is highly insaniary must be obvious. A certain amount of dirt and perspiration from the hands is left on every article of food thus handled and after the article has been pawed over by half a dozen people, it is hardly fit for human consumption.

Many of the better class of stores endeavor to prohibit this practice, but some of it is done nevertheless. The responsibility rests entirely with the purchaser. The storekeeper can hardly be blamed for refraining from protesting against the practice since his livelihood depends upon keeping the good will of the very people who thus contaminate the food products he sells.

Makes Life Hard

Are you yawning, Friend Reader? Of course, the discussion of conditions in our countries is a bore, but imagine how interested you would be if on lifting your eyes from this page you suddenly saw an armed burglar ransacking the drawers in which the family treasure is kept. That would rouse you to action immediately.

Well, in the past two years you have lost your right now through the European mess a great deal more than a thief could possibly carry off. And you will continue to suffer loss until an honest, sincere effort is made by all hands to clean up.

It all goes back to the fact that the price of and the demand for our basic products like cotton, iron, wheat, copper, beef, pork, wool, leather, etc., depend largely upon the condition of the world market. Whoever keeps Europe in turmoil is taking money out of your pocket.—April Sunset.

THAT MUCH SETTLED.

"Uncle, what did that mule try to do to you?"
"I don't know, boss," said the old negro, who was feeling himself all over to find out where he was hurt. "But de minute dat mule h'isted his heels I knew he warn't tryin' to do me no favor."—Birmingham Age-Herald.
